THE SENTINEL OF OUR MEMORIES

The grand tower stood majestically upright, like a lone guardian watching silently over its children. It has been a number of years since the tower last stood, looming sky-wards into the heavens. Many of us have never seen the Campanile in its glorious, golden years of patient solitude, waiting each day for its children to gather within its bosom to learn, experience, and enjoy. The Campanile's reign was brought down years ago, yet the majesty and grandeur of Belmont's legendary tower of the Sentinels shall always be in our hearts and in our spirits, for although it is no longer with us, the legend of the Campanile shall always exist. It is timeless as the heavens above us.

Fond Memories

There were times when one dreamt,
When one sat still, pondered, and often wished,
That all their treasured moments in life
Of their fond Memories of Belmont High
Would always exist.

UNDERCLASSMEN, Belmont's bosses, pg. 188

THIS IS IT!! It's time once again to really take off! The year has finally passed; seniors will be heading off into the world to strive for new goals; the juniors will rise from the rank of second fiddle to take up the mantle of the seniors; the sophomores will grow up to become juniors; the freshmen will become sophomores but still remain kids at heart; and fresh blood will flow with new freshmen climbing aboard into the Belmont stronghold.

Yep, times were fun and exciting, but no worry! Although the leaders of Belmont are leaving good ol', beloved Belmont, the Sentinel spirit shall always remain in Belmont, and times will be great again.

"Do I have to go to school tomorrow?"

Students at Belmont tend to have a different personality each day of the week. Monday is the pits for msot students. They fall asleep in class, drag their books down the hallways all day, or don't come to school at all. Could it be a virus from the teachers? Who knows!

Friday is the day when everybody wakes up. Looking forward to the short but pleasurable weekend, students tend to over-exert themselves. The days in between Monday and Friday are days when nobody knows how or what they feel, so they just come 'cause they have to.

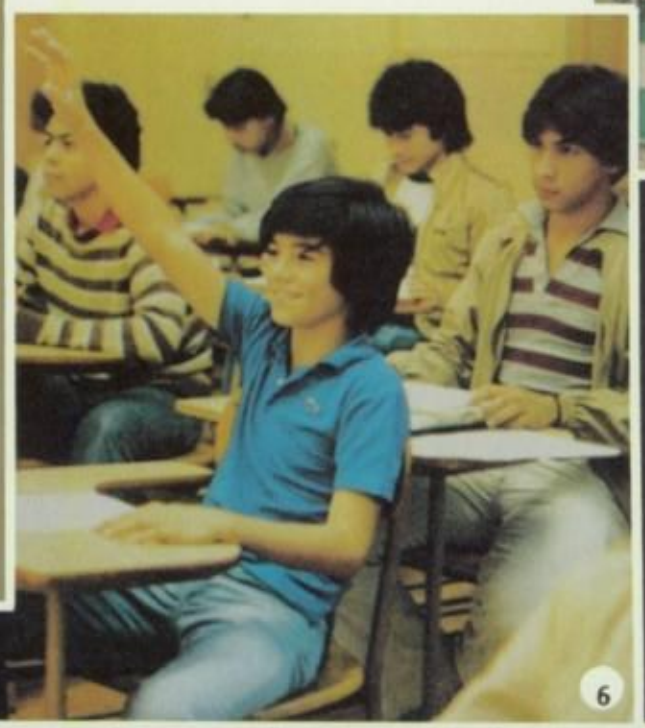
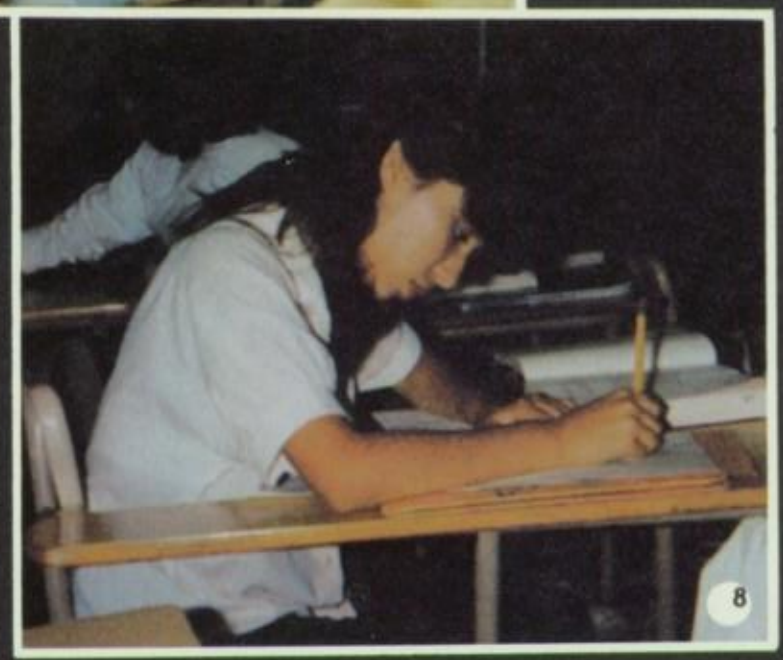
REACHING HIGHER





Reaching High in Belmont

1. Students broadening their knowledge by reading books extensively in their favorite library. 2. A student and his teacher, Mr. Chan, working together to reach similar goals - education. 3. Reaching higher at Belmont. A bird's eye view of our school against its neighborly downtown backdrop. 4. A very happy student, Sandra Cooper, smiles with a brightness that all Sentinels should follow. 5. An ambitious Sentinel enlarging his artistic ability while beautifying Belmont. 6. A student with the answer - reaching higher with intellectual stimulation and participation. 7. Belmont's band-members who raise the spirits of all Belmont sports fans. 8. A Belmont student showing the qualities of a great student - diligence and determination.

Everyone in this world has a hope within them, and this hope is different in each person. As we grow older, we become less bold' in reaching for this hope because the obstacles of life make us insecure about ourselves. Here at Belmont, we want everyone — teacher, student, administration, parent and employee — to rekindle this inner hope with a spirit of Reaching Higher in every aspect of their lives.

At school, this means believing that we can learn and that we can achieve in some area of school life. Also, we should strive for high goals, not goals that are easily reached. In social activities, we should think in terms of being the best at what we do and never put limits on ourselves.

In our lives, Reaching Higher is an important theme, a theme which will produce happy and productive people, and this is a living definition of an education.

DO's

1. Pankaj 'Parkay' Patel and Melody 'Shortcake' Daroya giving their views of the story. 2. Studious Sentinels working quietly and diligently. 3. Trash where it belongs - in the trashcan. Where else? 4. The famous trash-pickers, led by Roxanna Reola, keep Belmont squeaky clean and spring-time fresh.

DON'Ts

1. Hey!! What's this?!? Litter under the benches?!? 2. Just kicking back. Why worry about homework? 3. Snore!!!! Here's a Sentinel who knows how to study for a test! Wake up, Louis! 4. Sentinels horsing around. Guess who's going to end up in the trashcan? Sorry, Charlie! 5. Is there a fire in room 438? Is there a monster loose on the campus? Nah! they are just students caught ditching!

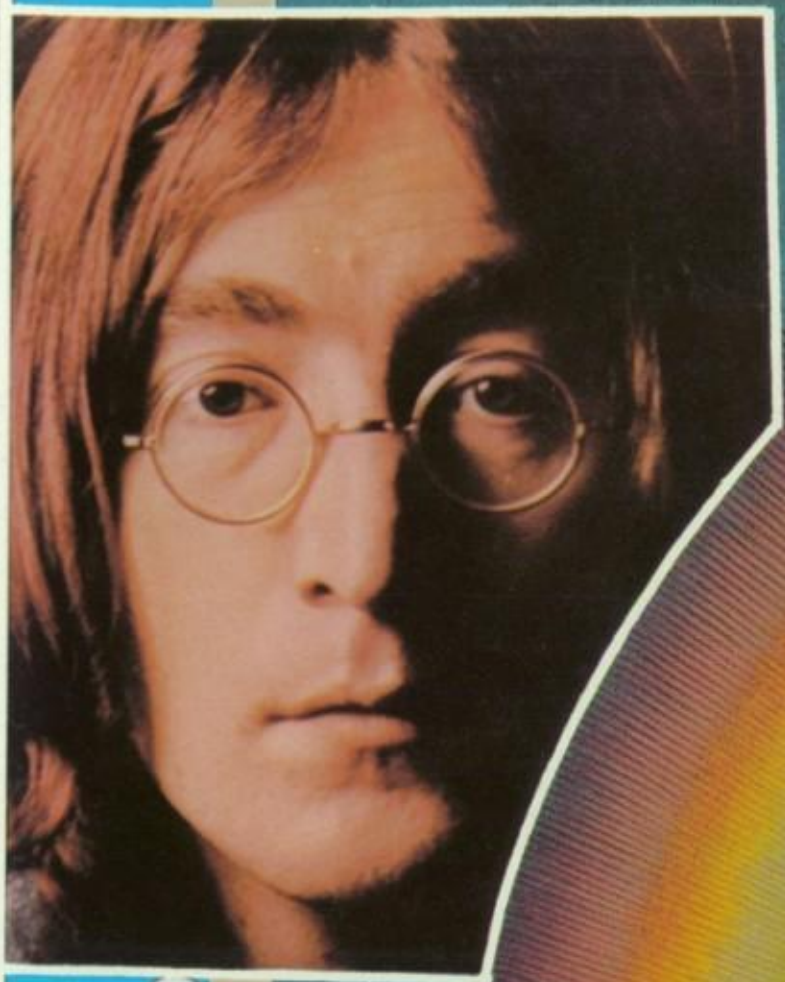
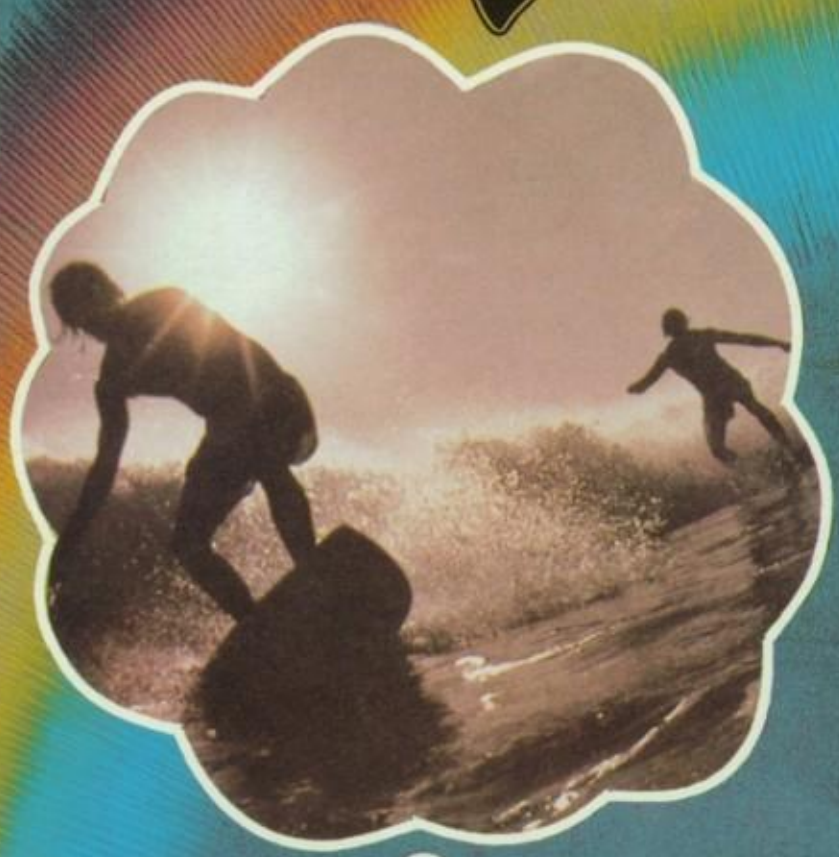
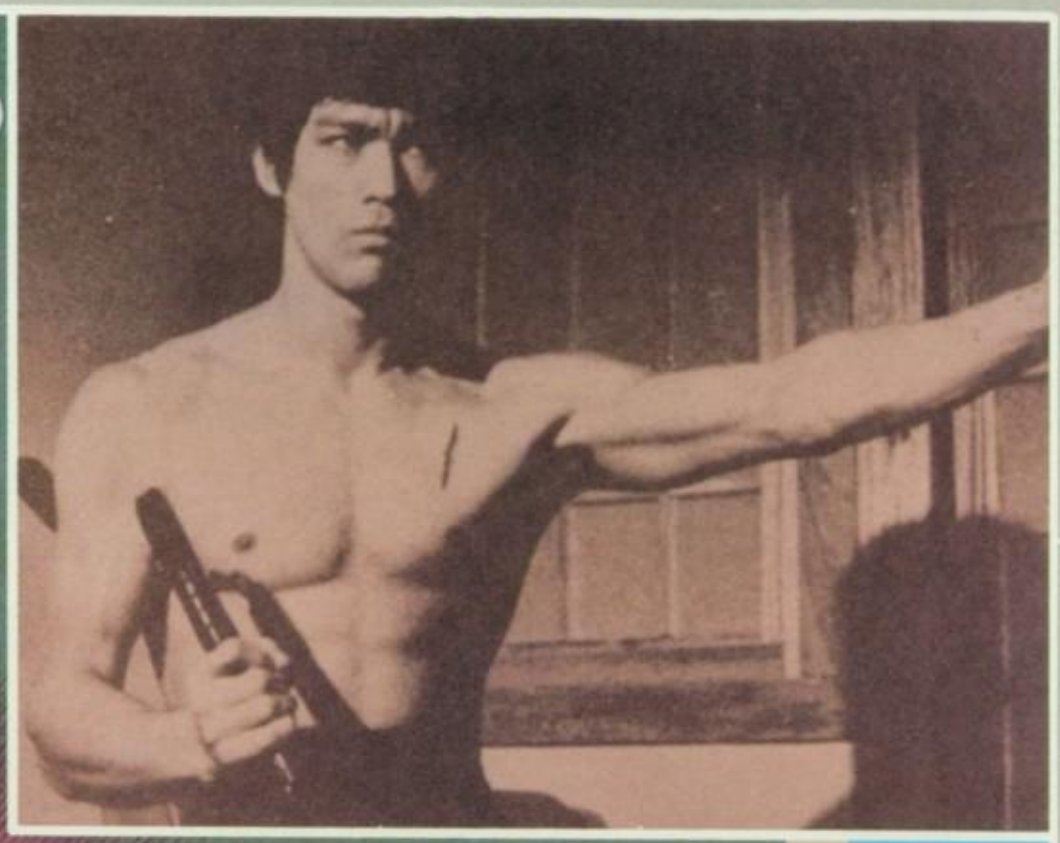
RULES ARE MEANT TO BE BROKEN. This seems to be the motto many Sentinels hold true. Looking around you, in every nook and cranny, one can see Sentinels breaking the sacred traditions of our school-that of facing the challenges of gaining an education and becoming mature individuals. Look around you. Look in the classrooms (but don't loiter around the halls doing that), and you can see students defacing the walls, throwing scraps of paper on the floor, sleeping in classes instead of paying attention to the teacher, horsing around in crowds; you name it, and it's happened at Belmont. Too many times students will not pay close and undivided attention to their teachers or do their classwork quietly and promptly. And when was the last time you ever saw students giving their teachers an apple out of their appreciation for them? Oh well, I guess you can call it modern times, 'cause these differences will always be apparent, and rules will always be broken. Here are the DO's and DON'Ts of Belmont High, as compiled in the Sentinel Chronicles Centennial.

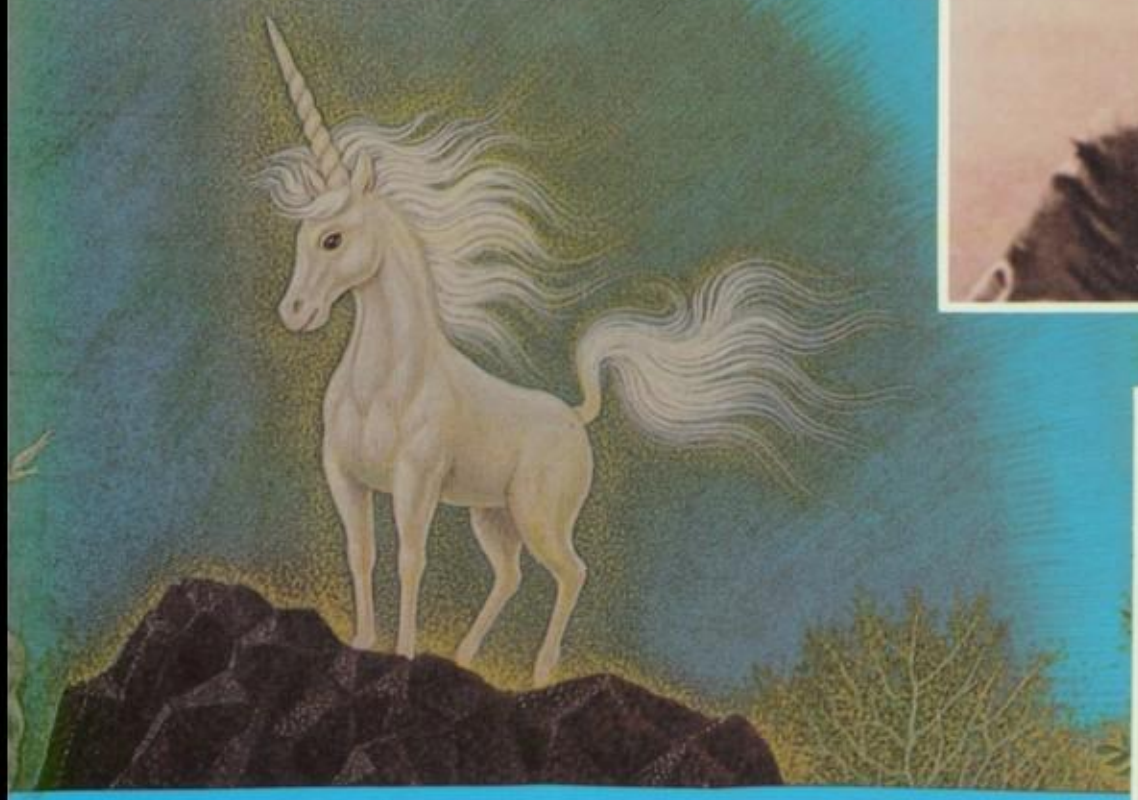
ENTER, SENTINEL, into the realm where fantasy reigns and dreams become reality! Shed your cloak of mundane thoughts and open your imaginations to the mystique and magic of that kingdom which we call "Belmont High". Here is where we fulfill our wildest dreams, of truly defining ourselves and our goals, and becoming who or what we want to become! Release your old, drabby selves and dive into that dreamland of the Sentinels!!!





ASIES



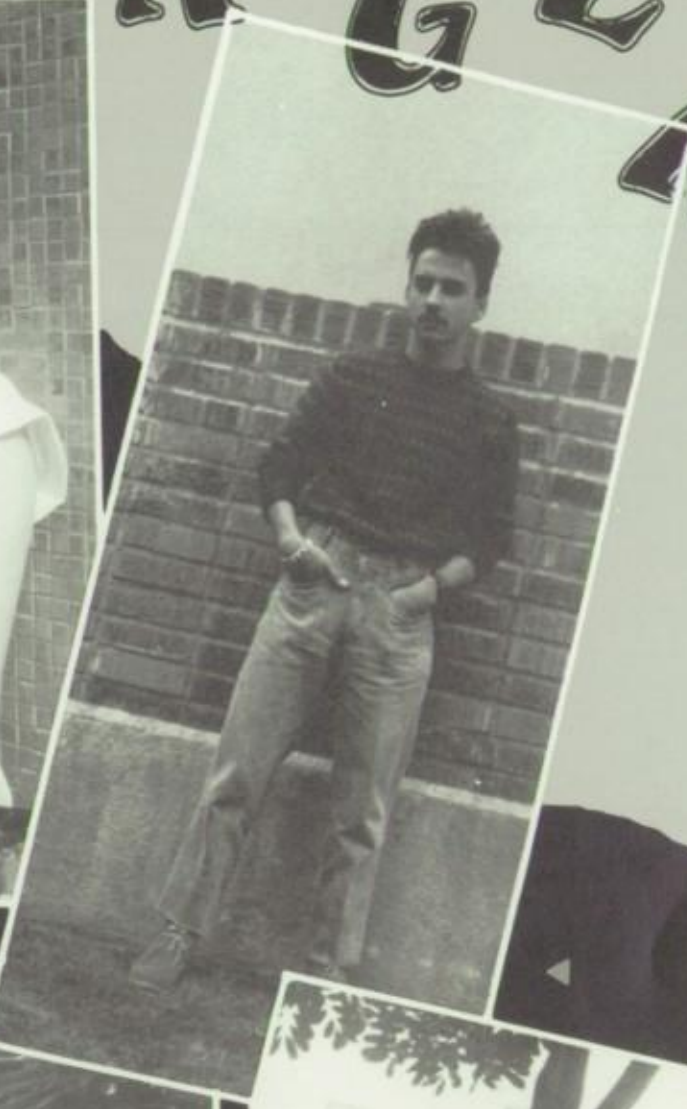


1. Brendan Cummings, alias John Lennon's reincarnation, often daydreams about becoming John Lennon himself, but his voice needs some tuning up first! 2. Vrooom!! Vrooom!! Sigh . . . some day . . . 3. Surfers! Golden, tanned Beach bums! Jackie Lee fantasizes in class! 4. Leapin' Little Lizard Alex Lin pretends that he's the legendary Dragon King, Bruce Lee. Haiii yaaaah!! 5. The Queen of the Nile, Cleopatra 6. and her ardent admirer - the Queen of the Ulits - Dorothy Ulit. Eat your heart out, Elizabeth Taylor!!

FASHION

What's in a style of dress? Dressing oneself with any other designer label would look as superb. Now, how false is this statement? One's style makes the man himself or the woman herself. It's true that what we feel inside is the thing that matters, but looking our best will boost our image even more. To look and feel our best, we've got to get the best. Then, we will appear taller, and we will feel better about ourselves, and most especially, we'll feel ready to tackle and conquer the world. Wow! What a feeling! Guaranteed this is not, but that's what makes life interesting — you never know what will be 'till you try it. So, Sentinels, if at the moment you don't feel that zest in life, try changing your image, and be happy and feel the best you can be, inside and out.

SWINGERS



Take time to do the things that really make you happy.

TIME OFF

I have had dreams and I have had nightmares.
I overcome the nightmares because of my dreams.

Salli

BE SORRY ABOUT OUR TOMORROW
AND BE SORRY FOR THE JOYS OF TODAY.
YOU CAN'T BLAME WHAT MAY HAPPEN.
IT'S JUST THAT WE DON'T WANT IT TO COME OUR WAY.
LIFE IS A MOUNTAIN WITH EVERY MAN HIS OWN PAIN.
RIGHT NOW IS WHAT'S REAL AND MINE.
THE FUTURE IS JUST A MYSTERY KEEPING.
WE CAN LIVE BUT ONE DAY AT A TIME.

FRIENDSHIPS

When you're down and troubled;
and you need some love and care,
and nothin', nothin' is goin' right, close yo eyes and think of me and soon I will be there to brighten up your darkest night. Just call out my name and you that know wherever I am, I'll come trunning to see you again. Winter, spring, summer, or fall al you've got to do is call, and I'll be there—yes, I will—YOU'VE GOT A FRIEND

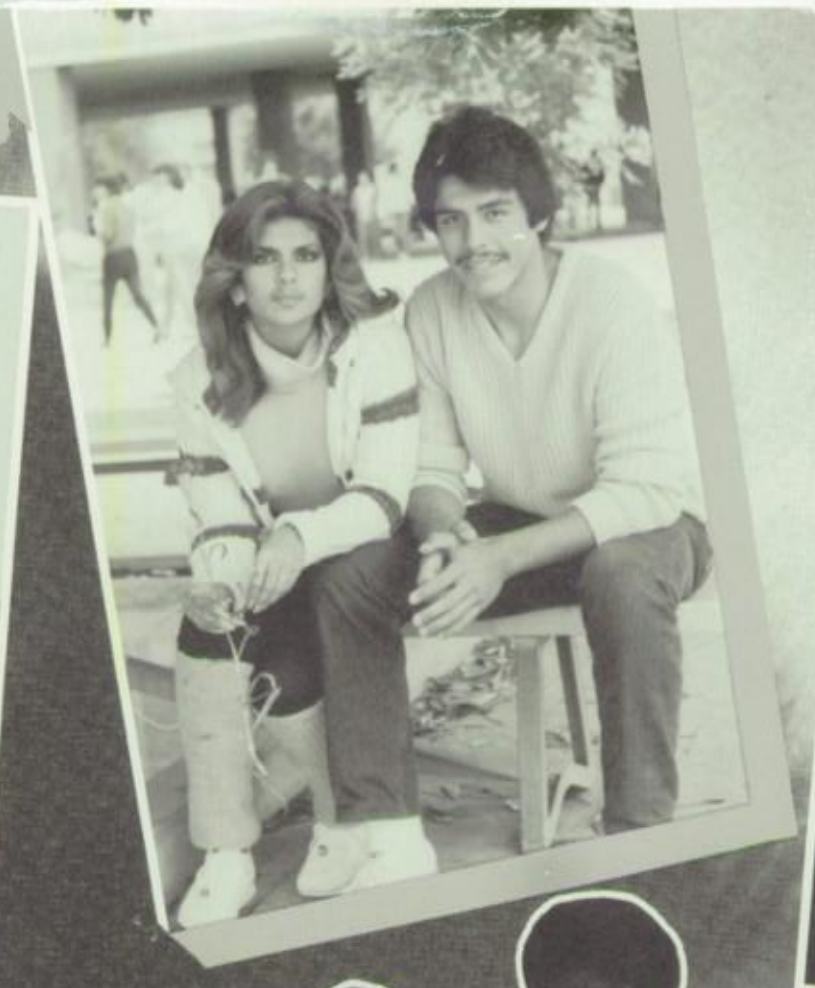
Can miles truly seperate us from friends?
If you want to be with them, aren't you already there?



A friend is one who comes in when the whole world has gone out.

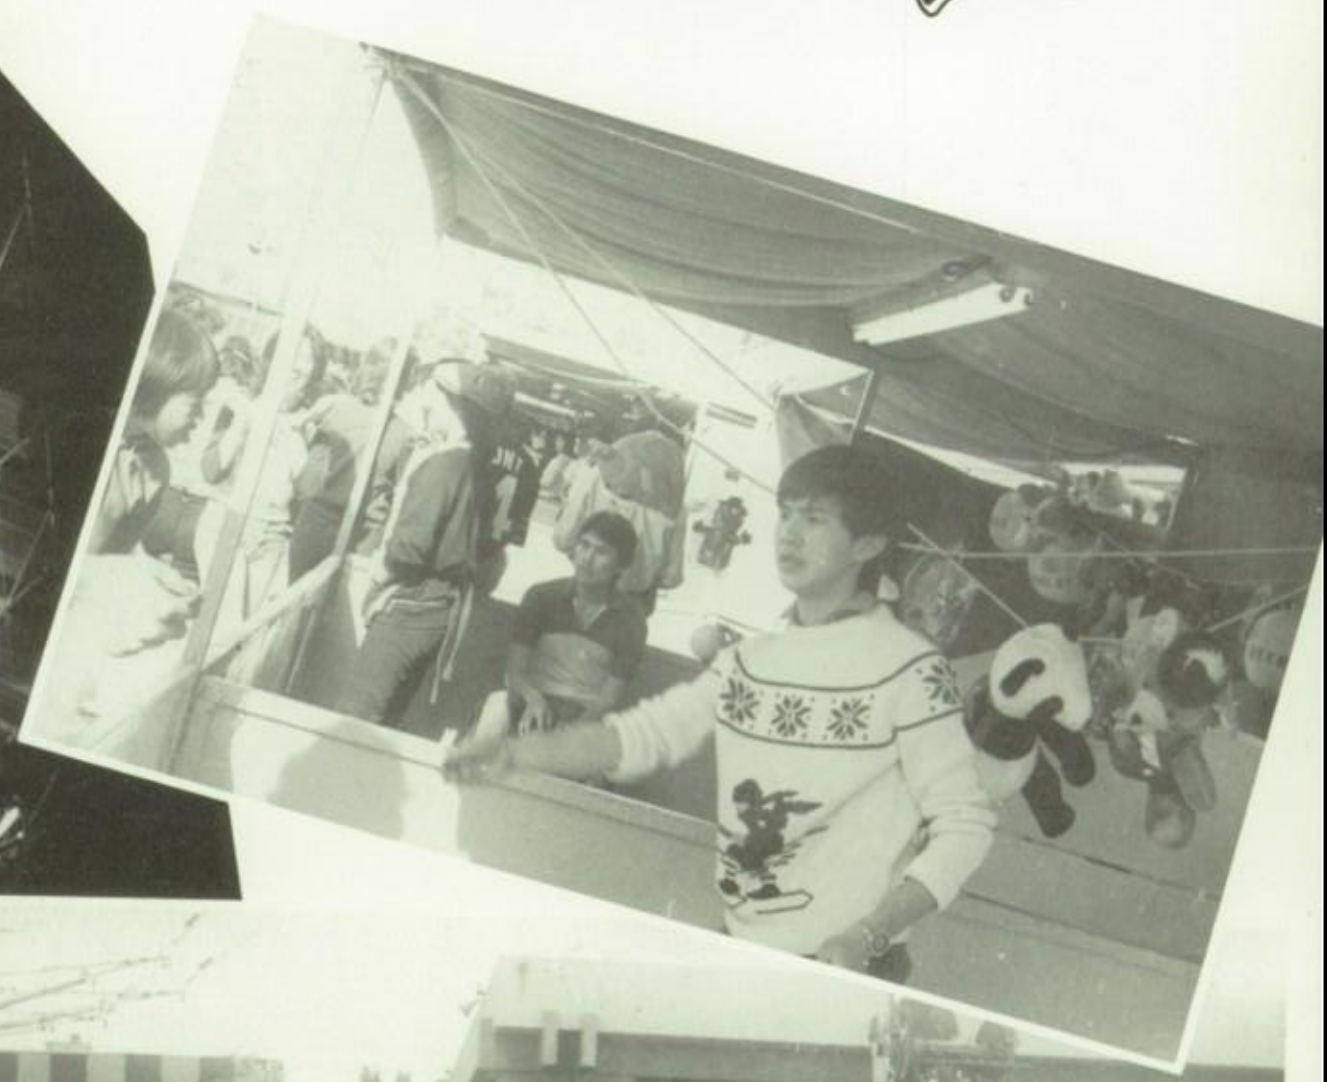
DUNGEON LORDS

BEHOLD, Sentinels, the grandeur and suspense of the adventurous Sentinels! Like true explorers, they have endured the hardships and obstacles that have plagued them during their perilous journey through the underground kingdom of Belmonte. They have been on a pertinent quest - a quest for the enchanted sword that was created by the Sages and named Education, and infused with the powers of knowledge and wisdom. Once Education was wielded, they sought to destroy their arch-enemy of the lower regions - the Evil Lord Ignorance. The adventurers' search for this magical sword has led them across many lands and into higher planes of thought and wisdom.

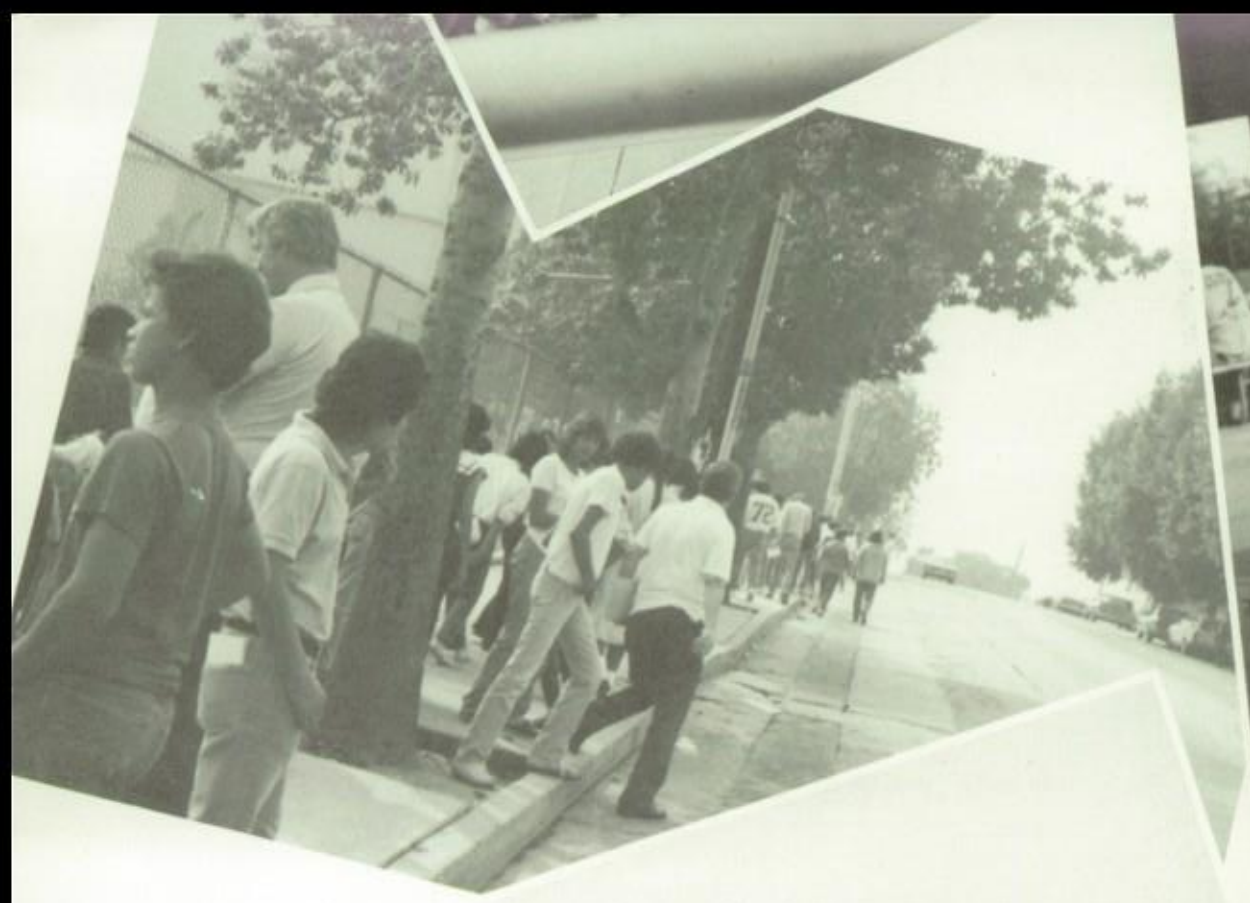
Banded together, their might is unequaled, their valor unmatched. Their display of purposeness, personal effort and an adventurous spirit will benefit them in the future. They will be ready to tackle the obstacles of the world, not through imaginative simulations, but in real life. Let's hear it for the adventurers of Belmonte kingdom!

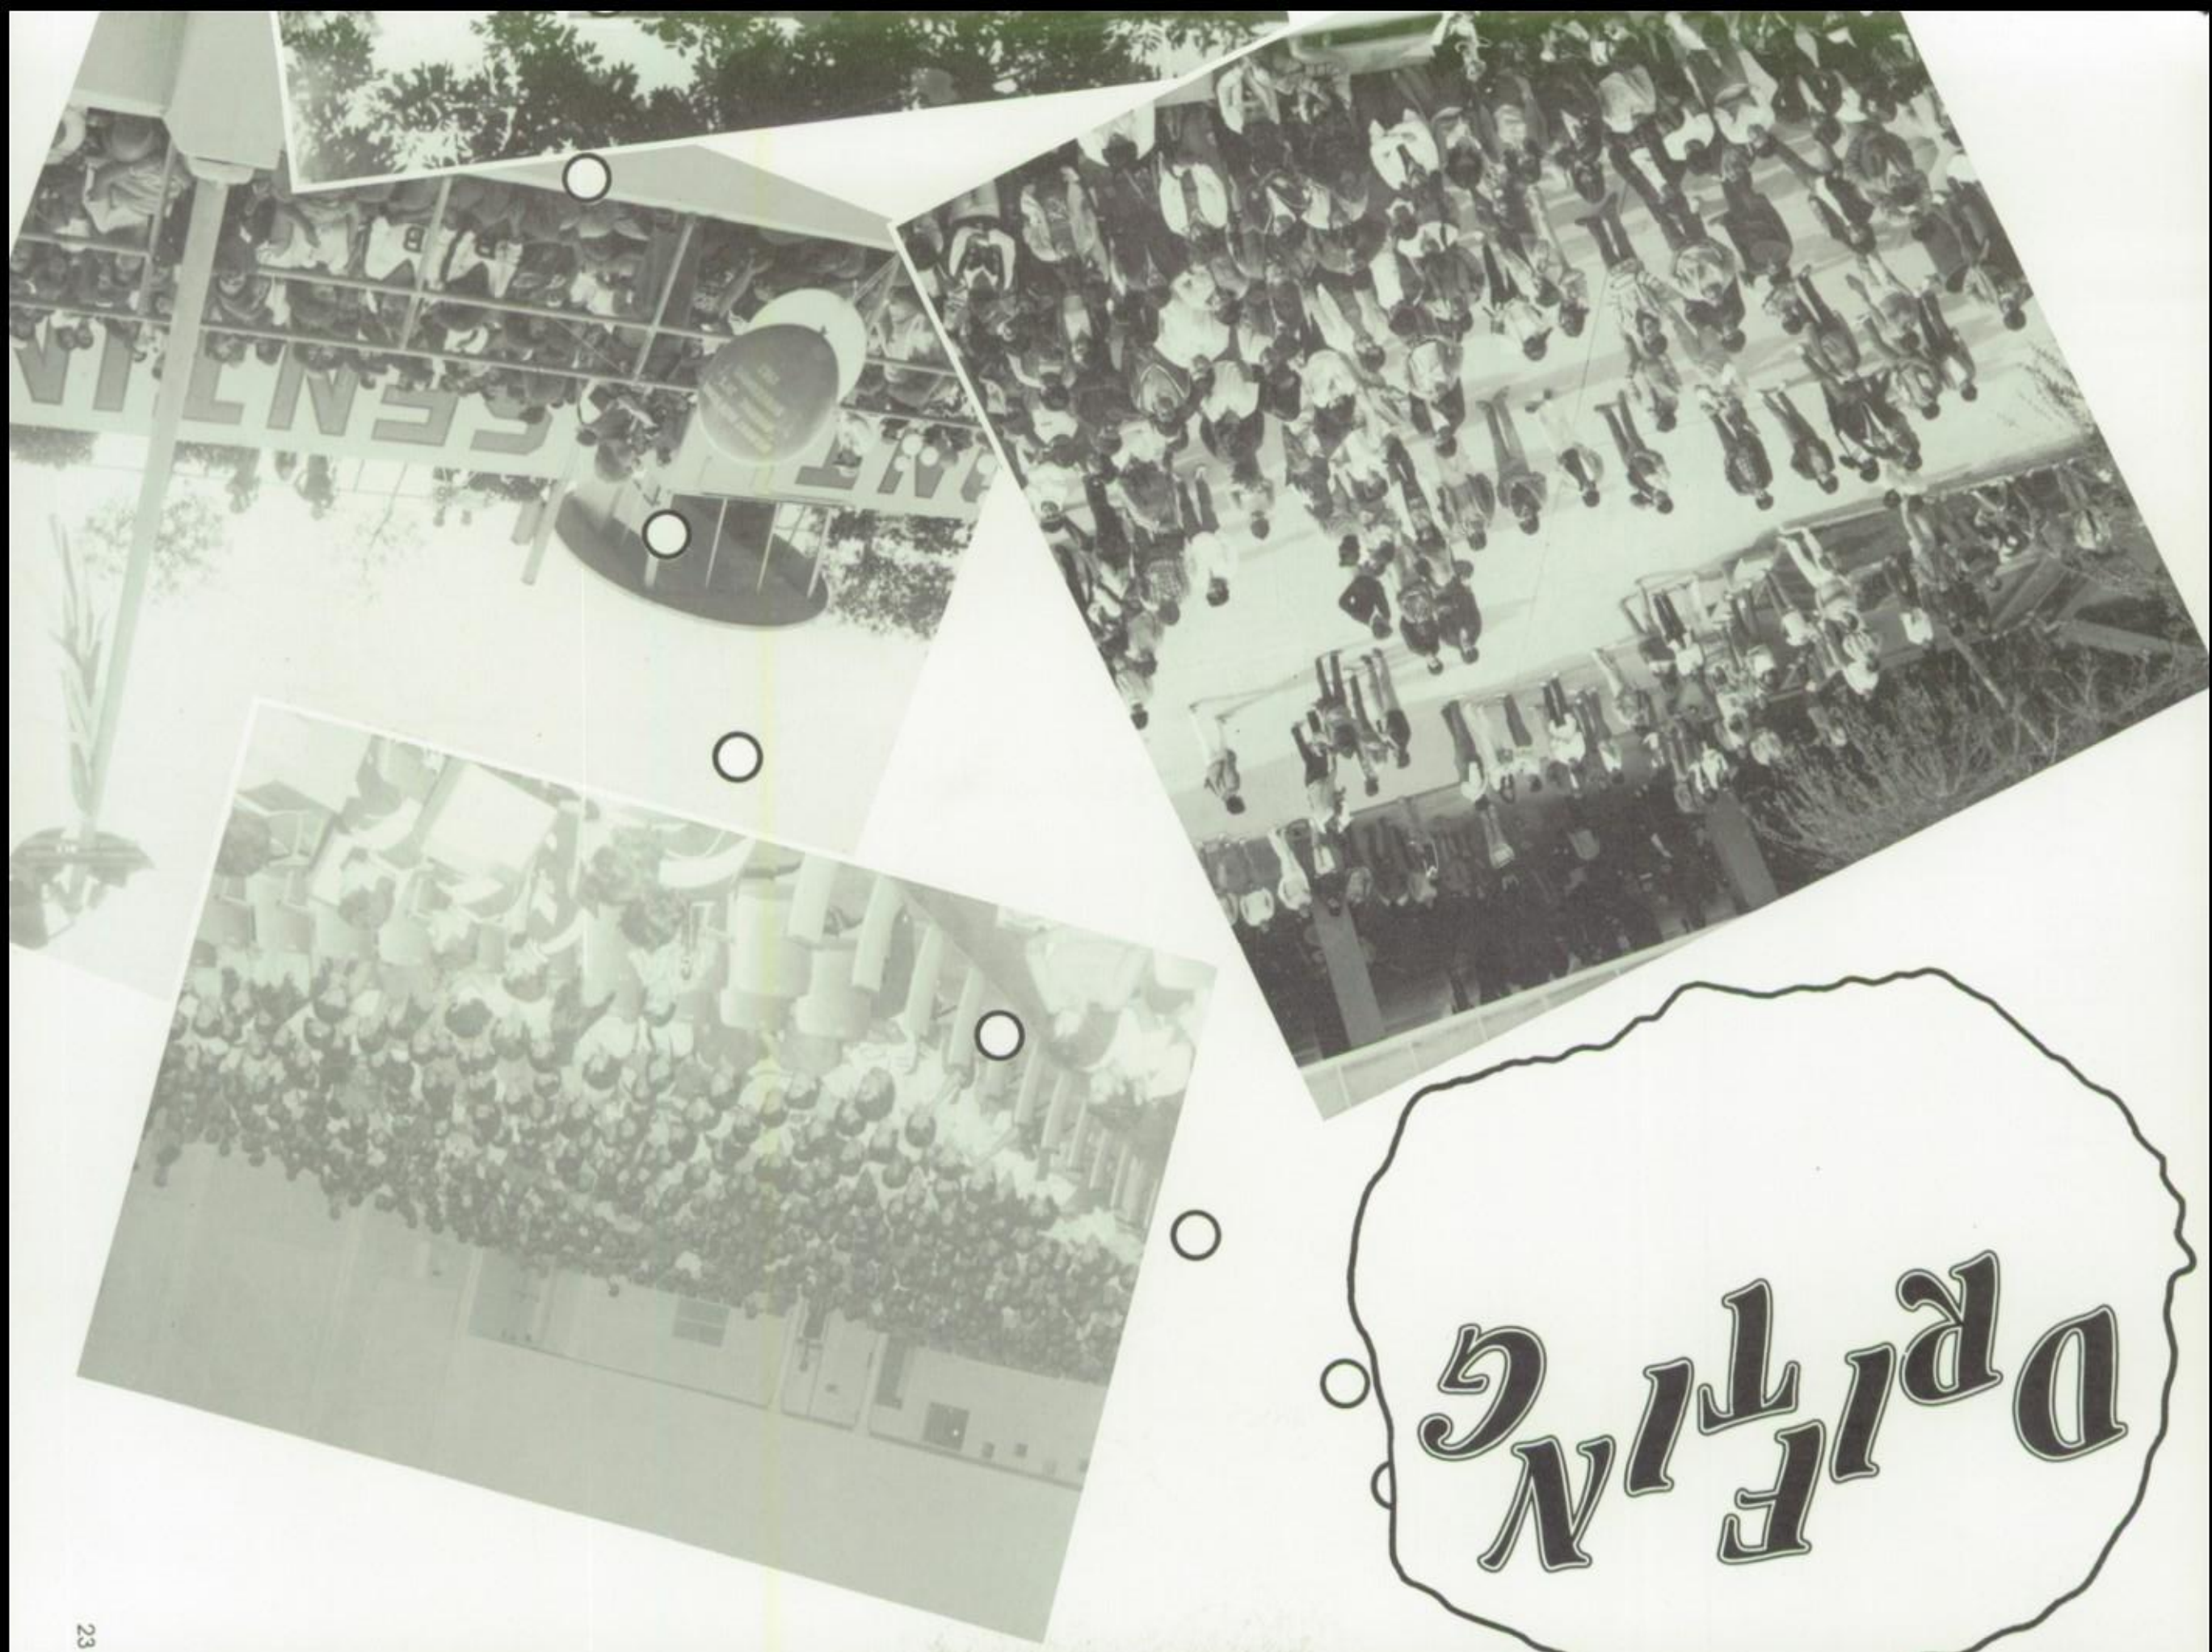
1. The Dungeon Master, Marvin Navalta, creates the challenge against Ignorance. 2. Paladin Ruben Balingit faces his destiny without fear. 3. Halfling magic-user Jackie Lee senses evil Ignorance around her. 4. Ranger magic-user Alex Sam, eager to take on the challenges of Evil. 5. Mage James Lee weaves a spell against Ignorance. 6. Fighter Tony Zabala out on a mission of assassination. 7. Thief magic-user Louis Rodriguez gazes into a vision of Darkness.

CHINESE CARNIVAL



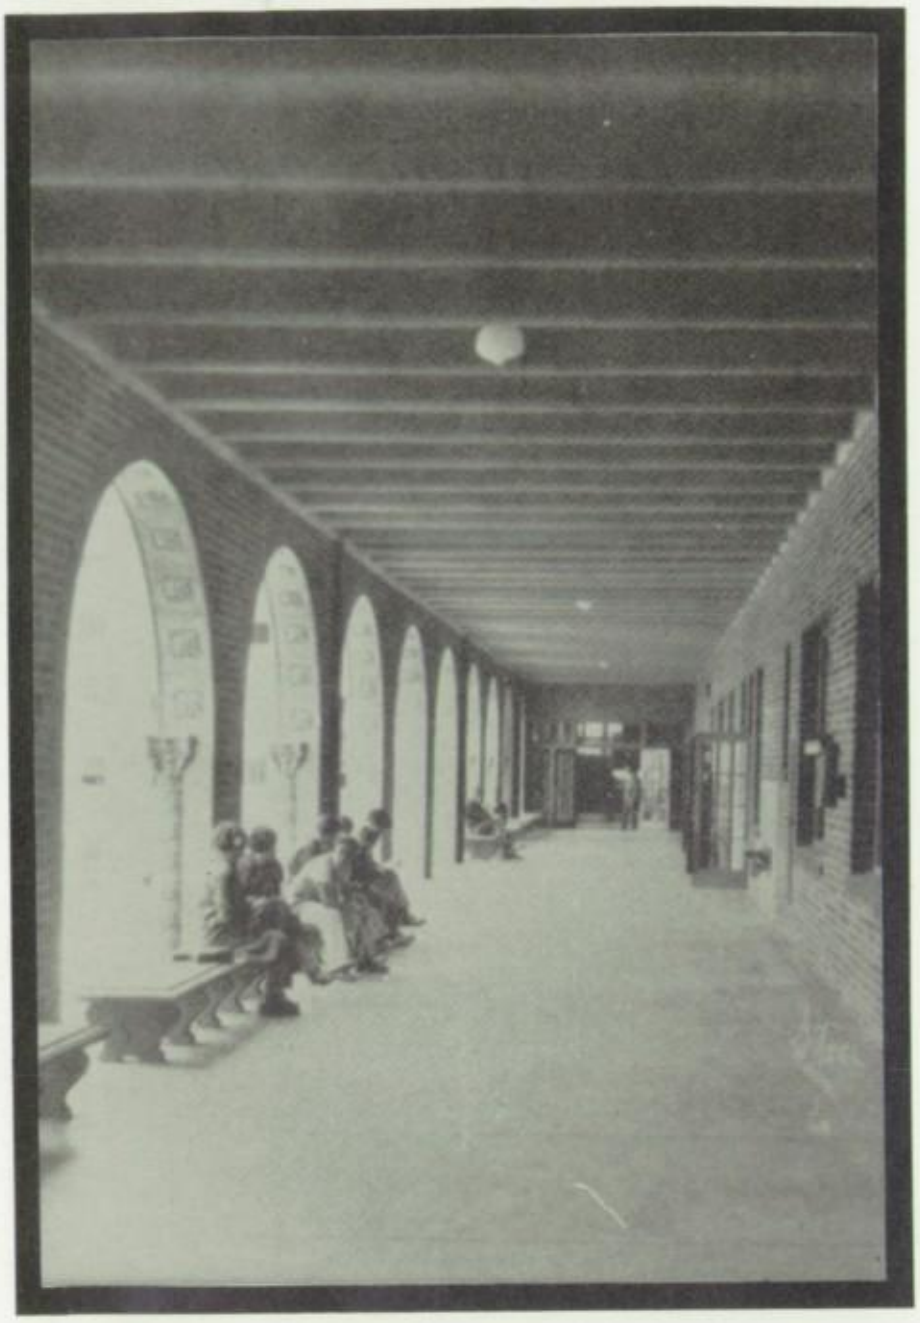
The excited shouts of game barkers could be heard above the noisy din of the 1984 Chinese New Year Carnival held in Chinatown from February 10 to 12. The brilliant lights and neon signs of the dizzying rides added to the heightened thrills and suspense of this event. Three days and three nights of fun and excitement were shared among thousands of people of all races, many of them from good ol' Belmont High. Dizzying rides seemed to spin relentlessly in every which way, making riders often wish that they had not eaten those Chinese noodles and rice. Some of the wild ones were the merciless Zipper, the overpowering Thor's Hammer, and the cheap-skate Haunted House, which was merely a journey through dark chambers. However, it may have been a glorious moment for bold thrill-seekers with itchy fingers. For the tiny tots and the chicken lot was the merry-go-round, and for those who have problems hitting helpless pedestrians was the Bumper Car ride. Many game booths were strung together, games such as the infamous Bean Bag Toss, the dangerous Balloon Store, the wet n' wild Fish Pitch, and the nerve-wracking, wrist spraining Dip Bowling, to name just a very few of some 30 booths. Of all the booths, more than half were run by students and clubs from Belmont who sought to make a few extra bucks for legitimate reasons such as going on club trips and paying for club necessities. This year had more Belmont participation than on any previous year. The carnival was not only a celebration of the Year of the Rat; it was a jubilation of the Year of Belmont. The carnival was a place where Sentinels past and present got together and shared fun moments. It was an event that has always been a pertinent part of Belmont's traditions. However, it was not always fun and games for those dedicated, hard-working Sentinels. Running the booths was both hectic and very demanding, requiring patience and vitality. Many have lost their voices from shouting, but so far none have lost their lives! Yet, the carnival was a memorable event, an event marked with a sense of getting a job done, of fun and excitement, and of undying dreams. And with the last shouts of encouragement the game booths closed, and the Carnival became just another memory.





DAILY LIFE

BELMONT YESTERDAY



In the beginning, God created heaven and earth, and Belmont; but until 1923, Belmont was void and without form. On February 28, 1921, the Board of Education purchased the grounds where Belmont now stands. Many years before that on the same grounds stood the Belmont Hotel, which was eventually abandoned as a hotel and transformed into a school for girls. The school was destroyed by fire and for a while was left vacant — until the birth of Belmont High, the best school in Los Angeles! On September 11, 1928, Belmont opened her doors for about 500 students and 28 faculty members.

The campus was distinguished by a beautiful bell tower known as a campanile in architectural circles. The yearbook, The Campanile, was, of course, named for the graceful and warm landmark. The campus was also characterized by a terraced front lawn, a beautiful senior bench, spacious arcades, and an inspirational Sugar Bowl statue (a student from Belmont posed for the original statue, which stands in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. The statue that still stands on the campus was a gift.).

The Class of 1967 was the last class to graduate from the original Belmont campus. Shortly thereafter, the Campanile, the graceful arches, the Senior Bench, the gymnasiums, and the warmth, and the heart and soul of Belmont were demolished. There isn't an alumnus of Belmont who will ever forgive the Board of Education for destroying what was the most beautiful school in Los Angeles, if not America.

A few years ago, a columnist from the Los Angeles TIMES researched the reason behind a fact that many of us know — that the students at Belmont are a very special group of people. Her reason for the article was that in performing her job, she noticed that Belmont was always remembered with fondness. It was not just once or twice that she ran across this phenomena but very often. She finally decided to do the research on just what made the Belmont student so special. She interviewed scores of people and what resulted was a lengthy article on the unique qualities of the Belmont student.

It is difficult to pinpoint just why the students of Belmont are so exceptional, but it probably started back in '23. Schools are much like cities in that they develop personalities. San Francisco, Vernon, New York, Hong Kong, Honolulu, Dallas, Los Angeles, and so forth all have a flavor all their own; and the residents of those cities are, in time, molded into the patterns of that city. Each high school has a personality of its own, and the students of a school are strongly influenced by that personality. At Belmont we are blessed and lucky to have developed into a warm, friendly, caring student body — definitely a cut above.

Opposite page: The magnificent Campanile. The building behind the flag pole is the present West Wing. Around the flag pole is the Senior Bench, and in the sidewalk are the time capsules now found in the floor of the rotunda, which was constructed from the brick in the Campanile. This page, top: The graceful arches welcomed students to relax on the benches in the spacious arcades. Below: The Sugar Bowl Statue. In the immediate background is the auditorium, which is virtually the same one we have today (it was remodeled in 1959). In the far background is Kersey Hall, which was destroyed in the 1971 earthquake.

COME HOME TO BELMONT . . .

and come home they did! On September 30, 1983, Belmont celebrated sixty years of excellence with an elegant dinner and dance at the Bonaventure Hotel in downtown Los Angeles, just a stone's throw from the school. Over 1200 people attended the event, which was covered by television and newspaper. It was a night of nights! Like Belmont—and because it was Belmont—the event was class. Pure 100% Belmont class. Even the jaded and "I've seen it all" management of the Bonaventure commented on the electricity, the warmth, and the special quality of the evening.

The most emotional event of the evening was when the famous and beloved columnist, Jack Smith, presented Tommy Koulax, of Tommy's Hamburgers. In an absolutely magnificent moment, all the years of love for Tommy's from Belmont students poured forth in a standing ovation for Mr. Koulax. It was the only standing ovation of the evening! There was not a person present who did not get chill bumps from so great a show of affection for Tommy, a man whose generosity, charm, humility, and gratefulness are unmatched.

The most exciting segment of the evening was the show in which the alumni dancers performed dances of each of the decades since Belmont's birth. It was difficult to believe that the skill, polish, and spectacle of the dancers was happening at a Belmont celebration rather than a show in Las Vegas!

The bottom line, though, was the renewing and strengthening of old friendships. Ah, you friends of Belmont! How great thou art!

The "fifties" portion of the dance spectacular. 6. Federal Judge Robert Takasugi presented the history of Belmont. 7. Tommy Koulax beaming at the standing ovation being accorded him. With him is Jack Smith, a Belmont graduate. 8. Ellen Endo Dizon, Winter '63, mastermind of the program for the evening, presented a bouquet to Mrs. Martha Palmer a retired teacher who started teaching at Belmont in 1924. 9. Saul Halpert, of KNBC, Channel Four, was the master of ceremonies for the evening.

HOMECOMING COURT

Queen Annette Medrano - King Andy Aguayo

"Roaring Twenties" was the theme and October first was the date for one of Belmont's most memorable homecomings! It was not an ordinary homecoming — far from it! First of all, the festivities were held on a Saturday for the first time in history; and the activities were held in conjunction with Belmont's Sixtieth Anniversary celebration. It was quite a day!

Actually, the celebration began on Friday when the various clubs and organizations sold their food and wares on the flats. The sale booths continued the next day with one notable addition: Tommy's World Famous Hamburgers were prepared and sold on Belmont's campus! Tommy Koulax, owner of Tommy's, himself supervised this first-ever event!

Prior to the afternoon football, in which Belmont stomped Grant, the beautiful young ladies and handsome young men who made up the homecoming court were crowned.

Belmont remained alive and exciting, even after sunset. Almost a thousand people attended three dances held simultaneously on various locations on the campus. Ah, yes, it was quite a day — a day definitely to be put in the treasured memories of the mind!

STUDENTS OF THE MONTH

The Student of the Month program at Belmont High School honors two seniors each month from October through April. The students are guests for lunch at a meeting of the Echo Park Lions Club and are awarded a college thesaurus. This year, we also awarded a $25 check to each student, courtesy of Mr. Tommy Koulax, owner of Tommy's Hamburgers on Beverly and Rampart Boulevards. In June, the student who is named Student of the Year receives a $150 scholarship from the Lions Club, the first runner-up wins $100, and the second runner-up wins $50.

To insure impartiality, a point system is used instead of subjective judging. The objective point system allows all students to compete equally, and it encourages students to seek a balance between academic achievement and a variety of activities. Students earn points in the following categories: scholastic record, school activities, community activities, and a bonus section recognizing extraordinary accomplishments.

If the ability to survive chaos is a true measure of growing, then we, the Sentinel Staff, are now GIANTS because of it.

This year's staff started with mass confusion. What were we to do? We were in charge of putting out one of the best school newspapers in the city. Last year, as cub reporters, all we had to do was meet deadlines, since last year's staff of graduating seniors had all of the responsibility which was passed down to us this year.

Our feelings, emotions, and ideas clashed on various occasions throughout the year, but the recognition of our priorities and of a responsible attitude led us to put aside our personal differences and work together as a team.

We went through many experiences this year. Some taught us the value of teamwork, while others showed us how it felt to lose not only a teacher but a friend.

After dedicated service to the school 1969, Mr. Jim Gillespie passed away. All of us, especially our combined staff of journalists and printers, will always remember this man who always gave from his heart.

Ms. Jill Vernon has played a very important role. She has taught us for almost three years how to work under the pressure of meeting deadlines and how to prepare for the future. It's definite that she will continue to do so for the future Sentinel staffs.

The events of this year will become experiences that will never be forgotten. They are lessons which will help us to mature.

DECATHLON

When teams representing forty-nine schools in the district met on a Saturday at Hamilton High for a grueling ten-event competition, three months of hard and studious preparation came to fruition.

Belmont's six-member, all-male CAD team composed of the school's elite fared off against the district's best, and although as individuals we won only one medal (by David Yee) as a team we fared quite well. When the competition was over, we staggered off to a pizza parlor for recovery. It was a truly worthwhile experience for all members and none of it would have been possible without the dedication of our coach, Claire Buckley, and all the teachers who selflessly gave their time for our benefit.

PENTATHLON

Last year's BELMONT DECATHLON changed format this year to a PENTATHLON. Nineteen teams got themselves together and competed in Art Construction, Math, Volleyball, Spelling, and in a Super Quiz. The first place team, ERD'S BIRDS, won free tickets to Magic Mountain. The SIX F'S and the OLYMPIANS tied for second place. The highlight of the competition was the SUPER QUIZ, which was presented to an invited and select audience. Richard Velasquez won the Super Quiz, and Brendan Cummings was second, and Alex Olvido placed third.

Russel Ung, Elaine Tomono, Donna Jorgensen, Brenda Morton, Ron Melin, Sharon Oh, and Darrell Medeen were the teachers who contributed greatly to the success of the PENTATHLON.

This year's forensics team, like any athletic team, went through its individual and team high and lows. With a team composed almost entirely of new faces, with but one eligible returnee, we fared quite well. The highlight of the year was at San Pedro where a small Belmont team took third place in League, competing against teams three times as large. As the season went on the team grew from a half-dozen competitors packed in one car to twenty sharing a school bus with Marshall's team.

The enthusiasm surrounding this year's team comes not only from its performance, which was admirable, but from the fact that, while a few members are departing seniors, there remains a solid nucleus of juniors, sophomores, and freshmen who will return next year and be part of Belmont's new aspiring forensics team.

The Belmont Cheerleaders of 1983-84 could write the book on what cheering is all about. At the cheerleader camp in Azusa, the energetic spirit boosters brought back to Belmont the first-place trophy that is awarded for creativity, sportsmanship, power, and strength.

The girls continued their sportsmanship and spirit throughout the year with their tireless support of the various school activities such as the candy drive, homecoming, and the many sports activities at Belmont High.

The varsity captains, Alicia Berumen and Lea David; and the junior varsity captain, Mayra Murga, provided inspiration and leadership for their fellow cheerleaders throughout the year. On the day before the competition in Azusa, the captains had the girls out perfecting their routines in the rain! That is dedication!

Every member of the 83-84 squad deserves the plaudits and congratulations of all Hilltopers for a job well done!

UNITED WE STAND

The Belmont JROTC program continues to be one of the finest in the Los Angeles Unified School District.

Under the supervision of Instructors LTC. Norman Andrie and SFC. Matthew Mack, the Sentinels captured the All-City Squad Competition, and Cadet First Lieutenant Jose Chavez won the Individual Competition for 3rd Year Cadets.

Quality rather than quantity of cadets continues to be the main theme of this year's program. Drill competitions in Arizona, San Diego and possibly Nevada plus the annual trip to Fort Ord for five days will be the "high points" for next semesters' cadets.

MARCHING BAND

We, the members of the Belmont High School Marching Band, are proud of the new winning tradition we are establishing. We are proud of the results of the long hours of hard work.

The last few years have given us some good moments and some disappointing ones. In striving for perfection, we have experienced many failures and very few successes. Following our motto that "A winner is a loser that never quits", we seem to have made this year the year of our turnaround.

We look forward, enthusiastically, to the future and its many challenges for we feel that we are truly . . . WINNERS!

SWEETHEARTS

What does it take to be a Swinging Sweetheart? Many people wonder about the answer to that question. It takes a great deal of determination, energy, and a yearning to be the "BEST." This year's drill team was made up of 29 hard-working and spirited girls willing to commit themselves to many hours of grueling practice. They trained all summer by going through many tests and even a hell week. This hard training continued with after school practices usually ending way past the required hours of a normal school day.

This year the band and drill team competed in a State Invitational Competition at Granada Hills High School and came home with second place in the 2A division. But this year, in the annual band and drill team competition, we narrowly missed qualifying for the Sports Arena competition by a fraction of a point.

Mrs. Lillian Krumholz was our new sponsor this year and she held us together through all of our trials and disappointments and she also made our victories and accomplishments much more enjoyable. We love her very much. Our officers also put in much of their time which was not required of them.

The members of the drill team deserve the best of everything for all of their time and effort to be the best. I salute the Swinging Sweethearts of 1984. "TOGETHER WE ARE THE BEST"

Positive Thinking

The 1984 Varsity Baseball season got under way with the celebration of an important victory over Lincoln. It has been an uphill climb, not only as being part of the Baseball team, but taking on the role of a student as well. Because of the "C" average, no "Fall" rule, some schools have really been affected; but fortunately enough our team has stuck together. Our defense shows solidity, and our offense brings on a thrill of victory. Together, we contribute as one team, not as individuals.

Our first round was very crucial, We needed to get a good start-and we did! We won our first four out of five games. The rest of the season depends on the spirit, stammina, and positive thinking of the team's ability, and as for the spirit of Belmont, . . . it will never die.

We, the seniors of the Varsity Baseball Team, would like to thank the coaching staff, Mr. Tom Arima, and Tony Spera for making the past three year's very memorable, and, above all educational.

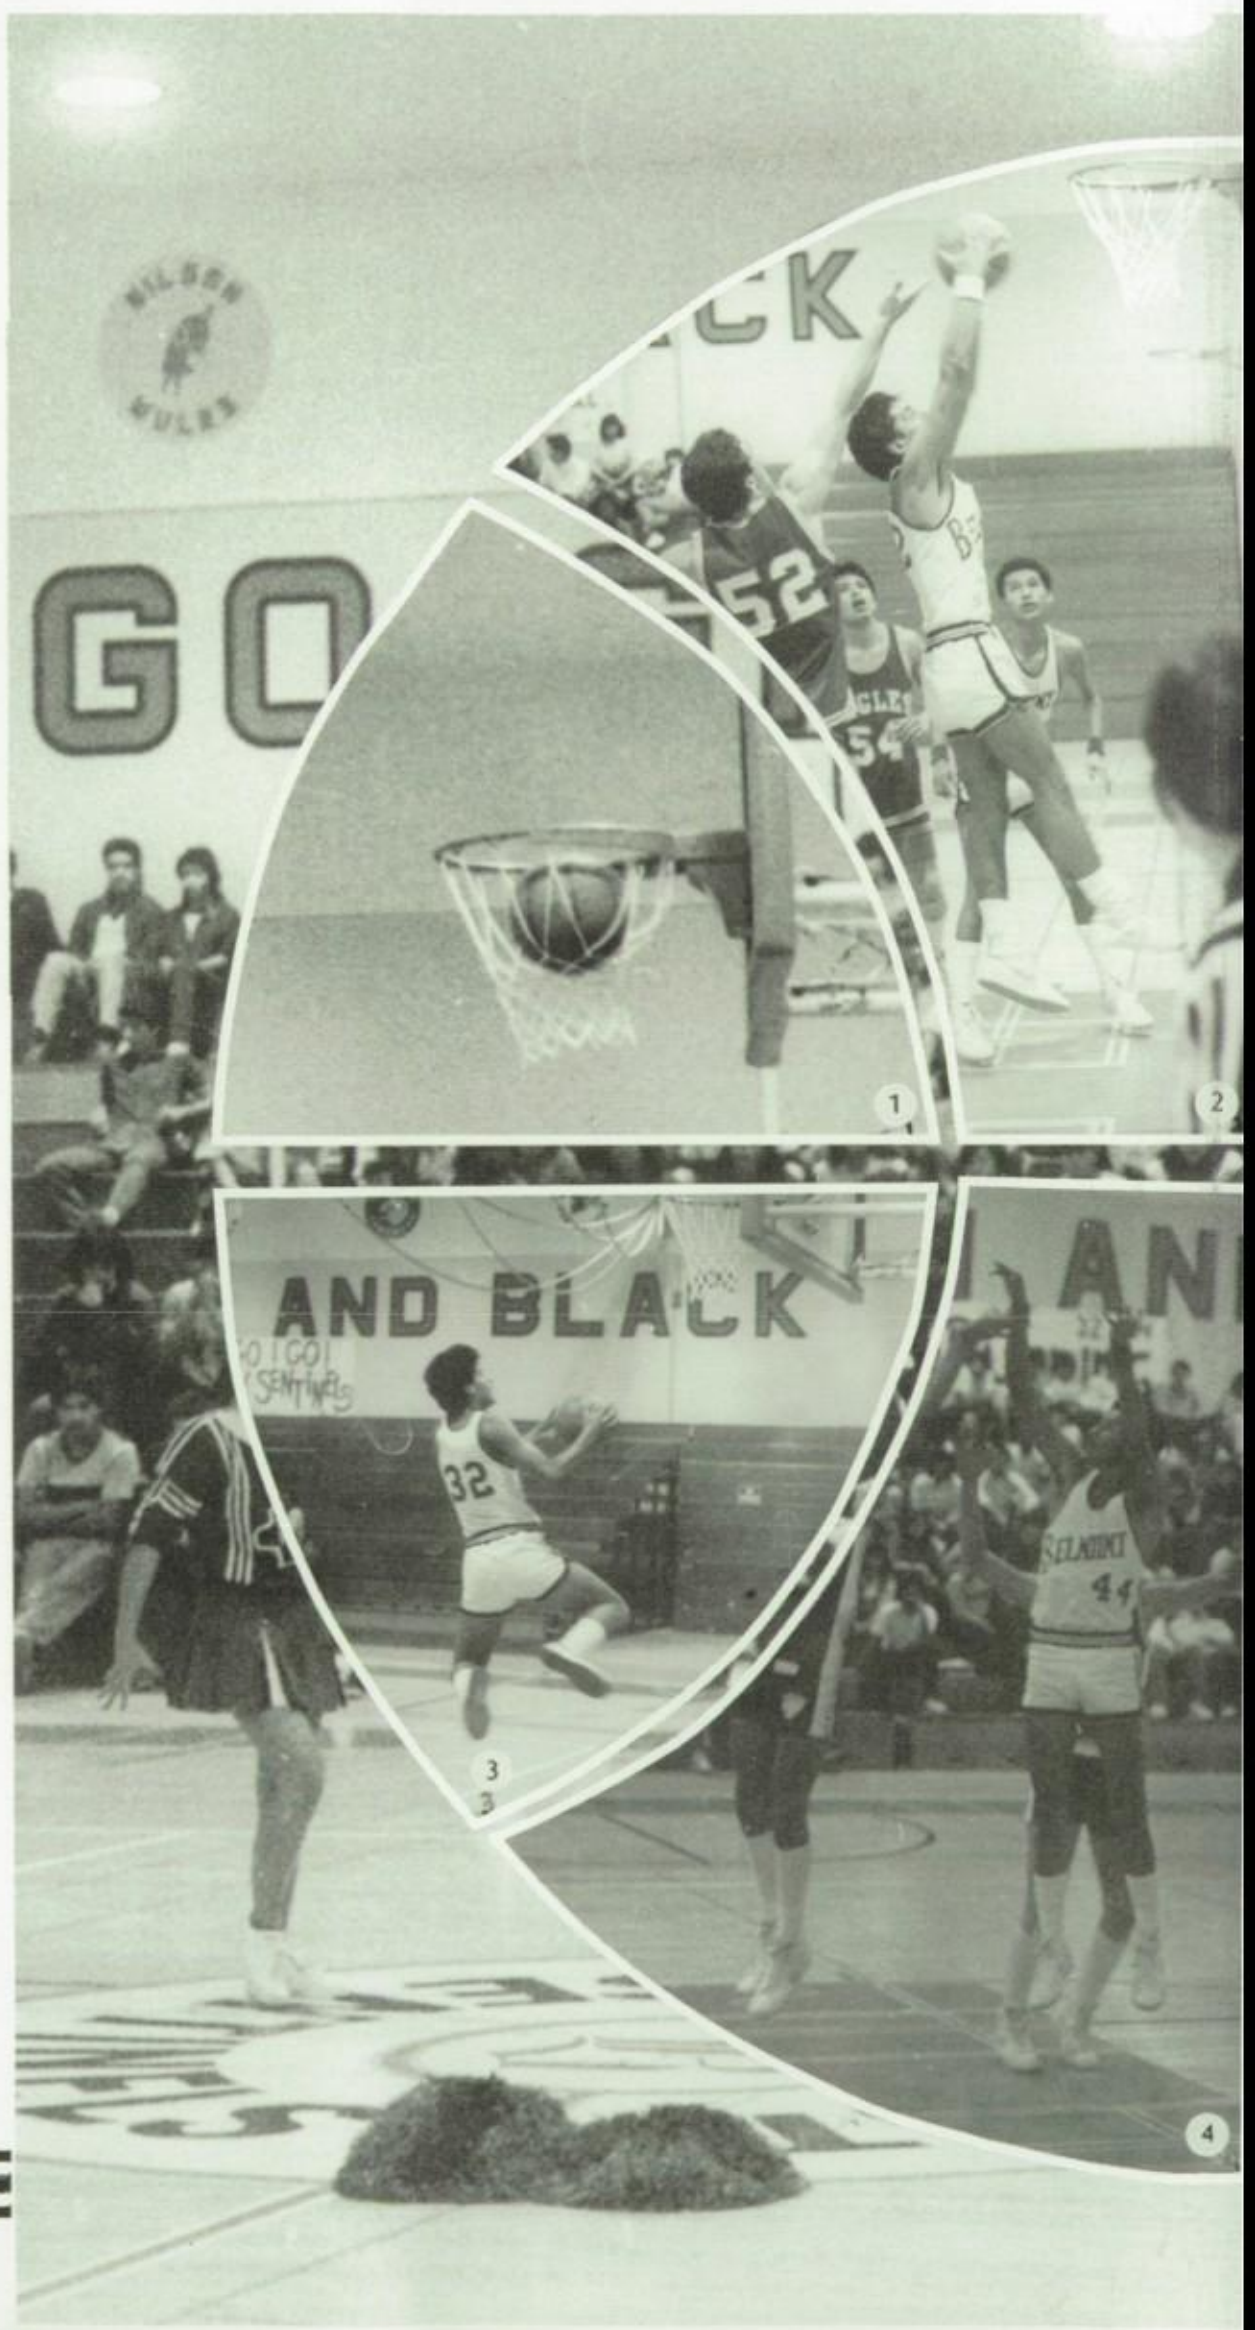
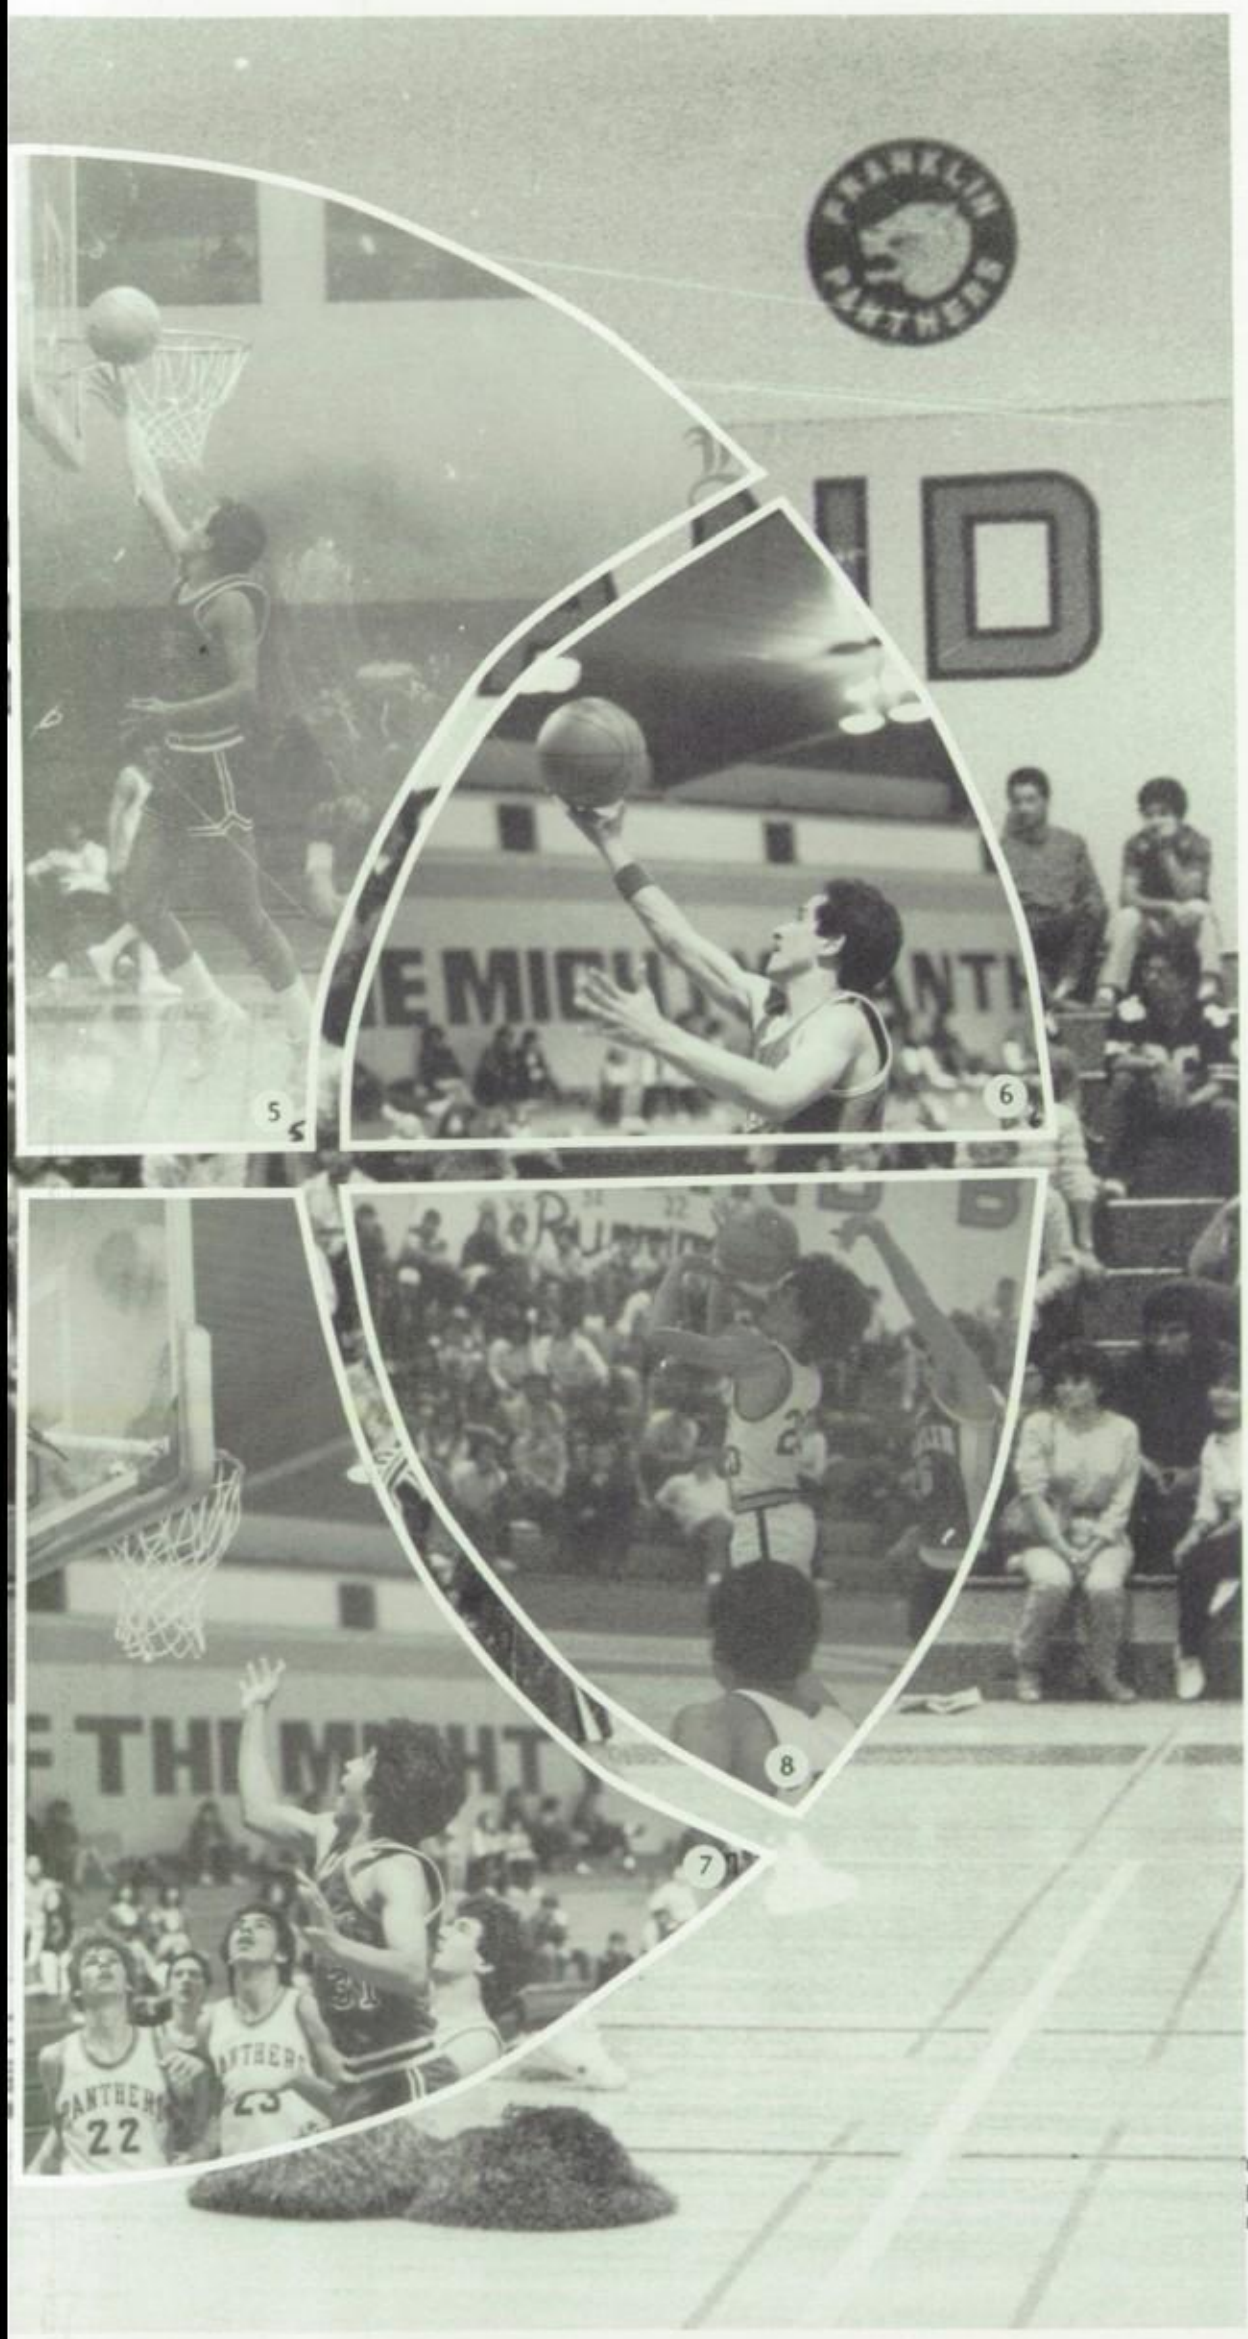
"If you have and keep the ball they cannot score on you. If they cannot score on you, they cannot win."
Coach Arima





I SAT ON THE BENCH WITH COACH ARIMA ... at the Lincoln-Belmont game. In the twenty five years that I have watched from the stands as Mr. Arima coached, I did not realize that he talked so much. "C'MON FRANK, (Gonzales, the referee and '59 graduate of Belmont) CALL 'EM RIGHT'." "PASS! PASS!" Arima knows more about basketball than any man alive except maybe Johnny Wooden. "MAKE 'EM BOTH, ERWIN" Erwin (Goo Goo) Lopez, the man with more moves than Michael Jackson. He has a superb sense of the basketball court. So keen is his sense of the location of the hoop that I would bet he can shoot almost as well in the dark as he can in daylight. Erwin is also a superb defense man. He handled the toughest defense assignments all year long. "DON'T DRIBBLE SO MUCH, RUBEN!" I have known Ruben (Machine Gun) Viola most of his stay at Belmont because he has been in several of my classes. There were times when I wanted to hit him upside the head with a sledgehammer — but only as a student. As a basketball player and as a man, he is outstanding. He lead the team in average, percentage, and assists, and he made all league. But his basketball talent is secondary. His charm, humor, and openess make you enjoy every moment of his company. "TAKE IT, JERRY!" Jerry (Chuy) Ng always looks asleep, but obviously he is not. That is easily seen from the way he plays. His left-hand jumper is as sweet as ten pounds of honey. "YOU FINALLY CALLED ONE RIGHT, FRANK! MAKE 'EM BOTH, CARLOS!" Carlos (Spider) Umana is a scrappy ballplayer with an unusual jump shot, unusual in that he sprawls when he shoots, and that sprawl makes him look like a spider. Carlos was strong on the boards and a good inside shooter. The man loves the game and hates to lose. "GET POSITION!" Martin (Igor) Ortiz is a quiet gentleman type of ballplayer who played high school basketball for the first time this his senior year, and he made the varsity team. Ortiz pulled down many key rebounds. "PLAY THE PASSING LANE!" What a great outside shooter Jack (Bumper) Carrillo is. I don't know Jack too well, but all the girls seem to know him very well — or would like to. I took a team picture to the newspaper office and the girls in the office pointed to Jack in the picture and asked, "Who is that??!!" "ONE HUNDRED M." Jairo (ET) Cuellar has been with the basketball program since his tenth grade year. Jairo is a good rebounder who quietly did his job. One of the biggest thrills I have had in all my years of watching basketball at Belmont was to sit on the bench with Arima, my buddy.

BEE AND CEE BASKETBALL

Our "B" Basketball team had a successful season. The B's finished the season with a record of six wins and four losses. Although outsized by all of their opponents, the B's compensated with speed and agressiveness. The B's did an excellent job in executing their one-three-one zone defense, which was a key to their success.

Players that played a big part of this season were Mark Lowe and Romel Estrella in the backcourt, and Marcelino Arguello, Andrew Wong, and Richar Hodgson up front. Guard Tommy Fornis and Forward Ruel Lim also did an excellent job coming off the bench.

Belmont's Cee basketball team led the school to a fair season. The team this year gained a little size over last year. The tallest player this year was 5' 11". Even so, the team was still outsized. Coach Hansen used the starters frequently throughout the season. Sometimes a few starters were never taken out and were left to play the entire game. Randy Ramirez, the center, grabbed 12 rebounds in a game but had a very hard time scoring. Miguel Guardado and Jesus Parra kept the team alive by shooting outside when it was impossible to penetrate inside. Basketball is a fast paced game. Giving 100% and "gutting it out", as Coach Hansen would say, is the key to winning in this game.

The girls' varsity basketball team displayed great spirit and skills, which brought them a second place finish in league. Ms. Fiege was definitely the driving force behind the exceptional play of the team. Captain Cecile Adajar showed great leadership and enviable skills in ball handling and scoring. Cecile lead the team in scoring. Alejandra Ayala and Margarita Cardenas proved to a special combination both on offense and defense. They could always be depended upon to grab a rebound or score points in crucial situations. Ayala had highs of eighteen points and fifteen rebounds this season. Ayala and Cardenas formed an instinct to work together which gives meaning to the term "teamwork." Maria Carillo and Maria Ruiz showed their versatility by playing most positions. Co-captain Elizabeth Butterworth whoed excellent defensive ability — especially with her ability to steal the ball. Helen Yee's greatest talent was making "awesome" outside shots. Nancy Lee and Margie Escuardro showed great determination and hustle, which showed definite results. In their owns ways, each team member contributed to the team, and that teamwork was the key to the winning season. Each member of the team was considered a starter, but only five can start. Consequently, the team had a strong and dependable bench.

VOLLEYBALL

This year Belmont offered new sports to interested athletes. One in particular was the men's volleyball team. Coach Melin was faced with the task of training and disciplining a fresh and inexperienced team. Contrary to the popular belief that first year teams show their lack of experience and ability, Belmont's volleyball team has proven to be capable and effective.

Using combinations of bumps, sets, and spikes, they displayed their abilities with a threatening force to opponents. At the beginning of the season, the team was plagued with multiple injuries and other obstacles; but still they endured and strived to overcome their disabilities. Despite defeats and minor setbacks, the team has managed to bounce back and still emerge as the true champions they are. Coach Melin, team captains Paul Huynh for Varsity and Lucio Rodriguez for JV's, and the other volleyball players should be commended for their time and effort in making their first season a successful one.

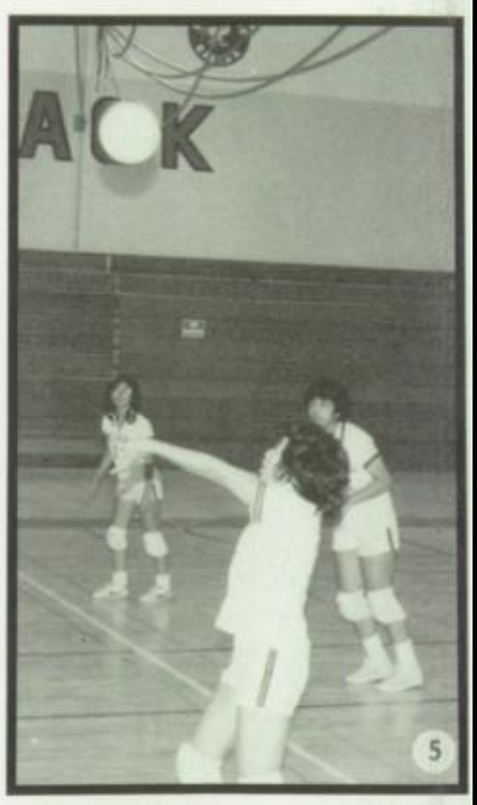
VARSITY VOLLEYBALL



With confidence and experience gained with difficult practices, the varsity volleyball team proved tough. The Sentinels ended their season with a record of eight wins and two losses.

Through thick and thin, Nancy F. Lee was always counted on for enthusiasm as well as strong serves and spikes. Angie, a sophomore, contributed powerful spikes as well as serves to the success of this year's team. Besides Nancy and Angie, there was Marcy as a returning varsity player. Along with Marcy, Ali and Isabel provided the team with accurate and consistent sets. Ali, Isabel, Helen and Elizabeth all began this year's season as new members to the varsity team; but in no time at all, they acquired the skills and became irreplaceable players.

The Sentinels are proud to have had a happy and memorable season thanks to Coach Melin and our new assistant Coach Eddie Mancilla. Coach Melin, we will always remember your singing which kept us laughing all the way back home to Belmont; and Eddie, we will always remember your famous words "Ready-begin!" and "Only ten seconds to go".

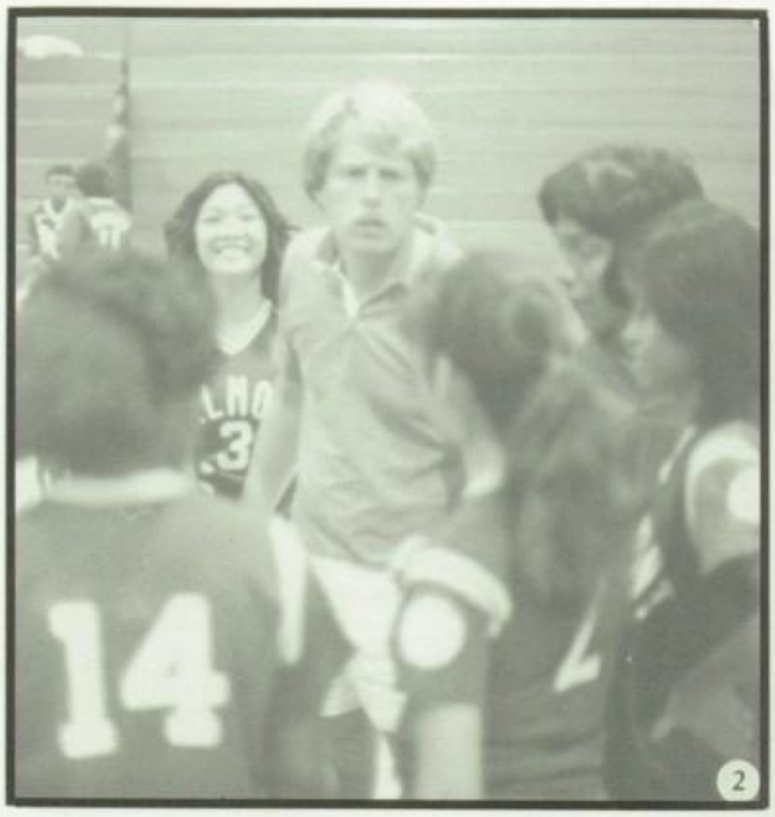
JV VOLLEYBALL



Despite the fact that there were no returning J.V. players, this year's junior varsity volleyball team placed third in their league. With tremendous help from Coach Melin and Eddie, the team began with the basics and worked up to very skillful plays in no time. Even though the team faced many problems on the court as they did off the court, the unity of proud Sentinels would always shine through.

The J.V. team faced a difficult season this year but managed to qualify for the playoffs by winning a tie breaker for third place against Dorsey. This season was filled with excitement and let-downs as well. Everyone will always remember and cherish the memories of our hard work-outs, the excitement of winning, the learning and understanding that took place after being defeated. Everyone will also remember all the bruises, cuts and sore muscles.

GOLF

Belmont High School was welcomed into the world of Golf in the Spring of 1984. The team chose Roosevelt Golf Course in Griffith Park for its home course. Nineteen students enrolled for the team. One experienced and eighteen novices took the field in January. Belmont was placed in the 1A League with other schools new to golf.

Javier Millan, a senior, was our best golfer. He represented Belmont in two city tournaments and scored in the low 80's. His scores were low enough to put him among the best in the city. The rest of the varsity team included Paul Lim, John Ho, Gerald Pena, Andres Garcia, and Demetrius Christopher. Only seven members are allowed to play in a scoring match.

Golf can be a frustrating sport, especially for beginners. Our first practice match on the course proved tough for Paul Lim. His hook drive found its way through a window. Later in the season Paul shot a dove, not a birdie, or an eagle, but a real dove. The bird was buried by the golfers. On his better days Paul shot pars and hit his drives fairly straight.

All of our golfers learned to enjoy the game and found it to be most challenging. Next season is just around the corner and with our returning lettermen plus new enthusiasts coach Hansen is looking forward to a good season.

VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY

Cross Country by tradition has not received the glamour and recognition other sports have received, such as football and baseball. On the surface, these other sports seem more exciting, but distance running is an individual sport which gives the athlete a personal accomplishment: it is a struggle within the individual who must always try to master his mind over his body.

This year the cross country team enjoyed its best season not only in the school's history, but in the history of any school in the city. We claimed the three boys' division city championships and a respectable fourth place by the girls.

In the last three years, Belmont has won six city championships, all in cross country. Before winning our first, Belmont had won only two city championships in its history in any sport. This dramatic change can be justly attributed to the leadership and experience of our Coach Weisenburger, who after 29 years of coaching received the fruits of his work.

This year's varsity team, unlike previous teams, had only seven runners on the squad; nevertheless, what we lacked in quantity, we had in quality. Roman Gomez, already considered the best distance runner in Los Angeles history as a junior, was always an example of consistency and dedication to the rest of us. He was undefeated the whole season and amazingly broke the city record for the three miles by 17 seconds (14:31). I, Alex Carmona, will leave with the satisfaction of having captained three teams to the city championships. Manuel Gomez, Roman's younger brother, who ran hurt in the latter portion of the season, has already made a name for himself. Juan Trujillo, our most reliable athlete, is leaving us this year. Everardo Silva, who is also a senior, was our co-captain this year. Marcelino Ruiz and Manuel Tinoco are only juniors, and they may well be among the top runners in the city next year.

May God bless each and every one on the whole team and especially the man whom we all love, Coach Weisenburger.

As the season started, the girls cross country team was very uncertain of its capabilities. Despite the team's many new members and agonizing injuries, we overcame these disabilities and went on to capture the Northern League title. This was the first league championship for the girl's cross country team in the school's history. We attained this with an amazing undefeated season of five wins and no losses. We then went on to take first place in the Northern League finals and qualify for the All-City Prelimanaries. This was only a small step in qualifying for the All-City Finals. During the All-City preliminaries, we took a strong second to qualify for the All-City Finals. This was the second year we had qualified for the city finals. After much hard work and pain, we were determined to take a higher place than the previous year. We took fourth place in the All-City Finals to surpass our eighth place of the previous year.

Tremendous credit goes to all the girls on the team and especially to Coach Weisenburger for giving us so much encouragement to achieve this great accomplishment.

Belmont's Junior Varsity had another tremendous season. The team started the season with a strong team, which was led by first year in cross country Jose Salas and a very talented veteran Albert Hernandez. Lots of credit goes to the other superb members of the team. Manuel Ibarra, Luis Pita, Rigoberto Botello, Armando Cabrera, Raul Mora and rookie Enrique Pita.

The team excelled even more when an addition of last years runners entered the team. Agustine Ortiz, a senior who was a member of last years J.V. champs and Louie Valdez junior, who really came out strong. Valdez broke the existing record at Griffith Park with a time of 16:14 for the three mile. He came in first in the Northern League Finals and city prelims, and took third in the city finals.

Agustine Ortiz also excelled exceptionally well this year. He came in second in the Northern League Finals and in the city prelimaneries. He finished off his last year in Cross Country with a second place in the city finals.

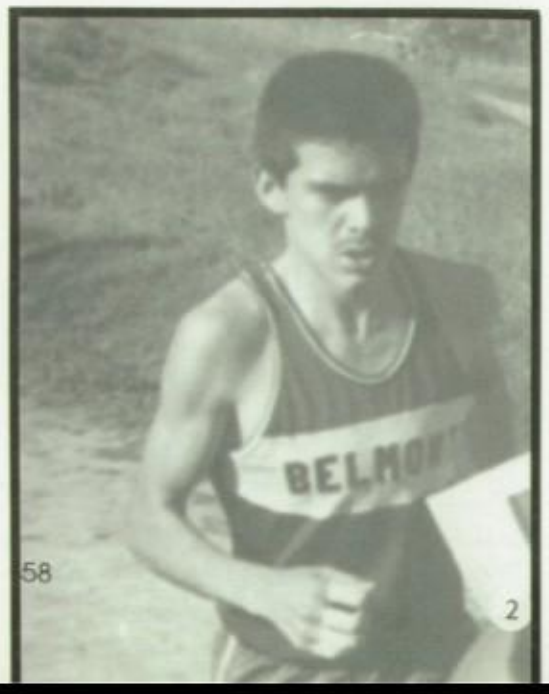
FROSH-SOPH CROSS COUNTRY



In the last two years, the Belmont frosh-soph squad has achieved a first place in the 1981 city finals, and a second place in the 1982 city finals. The 1981 city championship gave Belmont its first city title since 1952.

This year the team had an awesome season, even though they were co-favorite with South Gate. Every single member of this mighty squad came out strong to win it all.

Major talent began with sophomore George Duran. Duran took first in the Northern League Finals and third in the City Prelims. He also did a fantastic job by placing second in the City Finals. Rene Ibarlucea, a very talented runner, had a tremendous season for his first year in cross country. Ibarlucea placed second in the Northern League finals and in the City Preliminaries. He finished off his season by placing fourth in the City Finals.

The frosh-soph team would have never been league and city champions without the outstanding performance of Oscar Pineda, the support of captain Rene Lopez, and the steady position of Carlos Gomez. Other teammates are Serafin Bivaldo, Juan Leal, Martin Torres, Louie Mancilla and Vincent Moy.

What does one do for an encore? The 1982-83 Boys' Track teams swept the three league titles, placed second in the varsity L.A. City Track Championships and third in the C championship! Well, the 1983-84 teams carried on the winning tradition! The varsity swept to the league title again, as did the Bs. The Cs came up 15 points short of its league title.

The track program earned the respect of the Southern California community with outstanding performances by a number of individuals:

Roman Gomez, a junior, won the mile event at the Sunkist Indoor Invitational Meet, the two mile at the Los Angeles TIMES Indoor Meet (9:04.5) and placed second in the Footlocker Track Classic 3000 meters (8:27.0). The mile-and two-mile times were 8th and FIRST in the entire nation for those distances!

Senior Alex Carmona won the two-mile event at the Sunkist Meet with a 9:26.0 effort.

Junior Luis Valdez scored a 3-second victory in the Pasadena games 800 meters with a clocking of 1:55.9. The others? Try these mid-season marks!

A few years ago thirty or thirty five girls would go out for track; but when the season ended, fewer than a dozen would still be on the team. Coach Little turned all that around to the point that the girls are definite winners! They were undefeated in league this year and, of course, took the league title. Janet Mendez was fantastic, nothing less! Her primary events were the 100, 220, 440, and anchoring the relay — and she was never defeated. When in one of the track meets she decided to run the 880 for the first time, she broke the school record! Not only is Jan a gifted athlete, she is a beautiful young lady with a personality that sparkles like a bucket of stars! Anna Lamotte is one of the greatest athletes to ever run at Belmont High. She ran the hurdles this year; and in one of the meets she broke the school record. The next week, she broke her own record! Georgia McLean is a gifted ninth grader who will make a lot of noise before she graduates from Belmont. Connie Navarro and the two relay teams were defeated all season!

SOCCER

These are some of the highlights of the soccer season of 1983. Although this is the last season that Coach McFelea will instruct the soccer team, Belmont looks forward to having another good team next season. The action-packed pictures above reflect not only the team members' well-trained technique, but also their interesting personality. 3. The team posed after a tough game in the mud and rain. Another example of how skillful our team is in defense, blocking all field goals, cutting off passes, and striking down as many offensive moves of the opponent's team as possible. 6. Luis Vasquez makes another steal and sprints for the score while passing the opponent's defense. 8. Coach McFelea discusses with the player what he should do in order to win another game.

Our 1983 soccer team improved enormously since last year. During this season, we had a record of five wins, five losses, and two draws. The two most memorable games of all were those we played against our ultimate rival, the Barristers of Marshall High School. These games were easily won by us as we annihilated the Marshall soccer team, leaving them buried in the dirt upon the land of Black and Green. Other victories included Wilson, Lincoln, and Verdugo Hills.

The honor of MVP of the year went to Omar Umana who shares parts of his honor with great helpers such as Luis Vidal, Jose Perez, Carlos Landeta, William Linares, Mynor Godinez, Marvin Portillo, and Erick Rubio.

The above photo shows our team in their home game uniforms. Below is a photo of Coach McFelea who served as the teams' coach for 12 consecutive years. We honor Coach McFelea for his training, caring, and patience for the Belmont soccer team as he leaves us in the next season. Despite the resignation of our coach, our soccer team is expected to do as well or even better than this year because none of the team members will graduate with the class of '84.

Striving for an enriched education at Belmont seems to be one of the goals for the 1983-1984 year. In each department this is displayed throughout.

ART DEPARTMENT

This year the Art Department at Belmont High School has joined the school beautification effort by initiating and running the school-wide mural project. The art students are involved in every aspect of the pre-production & production of these wall paintings. They work together in conceptualizing & choosing ideas, designing, aesthetics and finally in actually painting their designs in large scale.

The murals will eventually cover many walls and several topics. The first theme to be explored is one of cultural awareness. This will promote ethnic pride and reinforce learning about other groups. Some of the other designs depict concepts of music, education, school pride and community awareness.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

The Business Department offers a diversified Clerical Office program featuring a classroom with new updated office machines such as electronic typewriters with memory and self correcting features, electronic calculators, and transcription machines. A few of the students from the class are chosen for on-site experience at the Union Oil Office where they receive on-the-job experience and have the opportunity to work with word processors. We have three excellent teachers teaching the clerical office classes: Mrs. Carolyn Williams, Mrs. Lucy Sparks, and Mrs. Yuri Matsunaga.

We also offer a popular double period banking class titled Head Office Banking being taught by an outstanding teacher, Mrs. Evelyn Dreis (last year she won the Golden Apple Award — her second.) Students of this class spend six weeks on campus learning clerical skills, then apply the skills for ten weeks at the Security Pacific Bank office. Though the Business Department's emphasis is on students acquiring employable skills, we offer challenging classes for the college bound; i.e., Business English, Shorthand, Accounting, and, of course, the invaluable Typing class.

CAREER CENTER

Providing a variety of Career Services and job training opportunities for Belmont students is the task for George Tucker in the Career Center, room 200. Students have at their disposal a career center with numerous resources for career decision making such as a career guidance computer system, microfilm file and individual and group counseling. Also available are career education experiences through various educational and community services such as the Explorer Scout career clubs, USC Med Cor program and career speakers.

The nucleus of the Career Education program at Belmont, however, is the ROC/ROP (Regional Occupational Center and Programs) at various businesses, industries, occupational centers and high schools throughout Los Angeles. The purpose is to train young adults with the skills necessary to find part or full time entry level employment. Classes are on Saturdays, after school or during the school day.

COLLEGE OFFICE

In the College Office, we have tried to keep track of the college plans of over 650 seniors this year. Assisting Mr. Michael Thorpe, College Counselor, were Javier Olivarria from Cal State L.A., Annabelle Barrios from UCLA, and Ted Ramirez from the UCLA Partnership Program. We never could have distributed the thousands of bulletins, pamplets, forms, and applications to our seniors without the diligent help of office workers Wendy Khoo, Karla Ting, and Wei Tsui. Our first goal was to have seniors sign up for the SAT. Then came the applications to colleges, visitations by college representatives, financial aid workshops, and scholarship forms. When it was all over and the dust had settled in Room 202, over 80% of the senior class was headed for college with over a million dollars in freshman-year scholarships tucked into their purses and pockets.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The English department is constantly "Reaching Higher" to improve the quality of curriculum and instruction. Joining us in meeting this task are some new additions to the faculty: Bea Bowie, Dalton Cole, Ted Oviatt and Phil Smith. Beginning with "C" track, 9th grade Reading and English will be taught in two hour-long "block" classes. On all tracks, more electives are being offered and our Performing Arts department expanded.

ESL DEPARTMENT

The ESL department at Belmont is an exciting department. Both teachers and students experience a sense of elation over the tremendous gains made in a comparatively short time. Students are not only taught a new language, but also learn to assimilate a new culture.

We have welcomed several new teachers to our ranks while saying fond farewells to others. In addition, Brenda Morton, former Bilingual Coordinator, is now Instructional Coordinator, a new position at Belmont. Stephanie Templeton is the new Bilingual Coordinator, and Linda Ritchie-Daza is the new Enrollment Testing Coordinator. Stephanie and Linda will share department chairperson duties.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

The primary interest of the Foreign Language Department is to enhance communication skills in Chinese, French and Spanish. Our department is unique in that we (1) use Computer Assisted Instruction in our classes of Spanish as a Second Language and Spanish for Spanish Speakers, (2) offer Chinese and Spanish as a Second Language as well as Chinese and Spanish for Native Speakers, and (3) have Advanced Placement classes in Spanish Literature and Spanish Language.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Popular among students enrolled in health is the cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training they receive as part of a unit of first aid. Students learn CPR skills through lectures, filmed demonstrations and actual practice on training manikins. CPR is a simple and effective method of administering emergency treatment for heart failure. CPR training enables students to help serve their community by becoming potential life savers.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

Home Economics Equals A Quality Life. Mrs. Maxine Scholts, Julie Jackson and George Lindrum are the teachers in the Home Economics Department at Belmont High School.

They teach courses that relate to everyday living and survival in our world. Management skills of time and money which are the resources of the family as well as interpersonal living skills and make life pleasant are also taught. Home Economics relates to making a positive home environment and prepares one for a better standard of living or quality of life.

Courses such as Food and Management help one understand how to purchase, store and prepare food to help keep the body healthy as well as use food as an entertainment medium.

International Foods helps us understand other cultures, and we get to taste food from around the world.

Marriage and Family classes may help young people make positive choices about sex, marriage and children. Perhaps we can reduce the divorce rate if young people really know what work it is to keep a marriage strong.

Independent Living prepares the young adult to live on his or her own and teaches what one needs to know about leases, renting, buying a home or paying bills. Consumer protection is a right we need to know more about.

Clothing classes help stretch the pay check; sewing one's own clothes or knowing how to care for them can save money. Sewing for fun, making gifts or things for the home can be rewarding also. Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Scholts are very capable in this regard.

Hotel/Restaurant Occupations is the only job training Home Economics class taught at Belmont by Mr. George Lindrum who has a background in this industry plus a Home Economics degree. The class prepares meals that they sell in a private dining room and also operates a fast food take out restaurant to students. Scholarships have been won by Belmont students wishing to continue a career in the Hotel or Restaurant business.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

Belmont's Industrial Arts Department has long been known for its quality programs that have produced students with excellent marketable skills. Belmont offers wood shop, metal shop, and print shop. The latter, under the direction of Jim Gillespie, is recognized as one of the premiere centers in Los Angeles.

MATH DEPARTMENT

The Math department curriculum has been changed by a state mandate. Students will now need to be prepared for Algebra as a result of the many changes in the department. Computer and consumer classes have been added as electives offered to students. Four new teachers, Elliot Treeman, Frank Hughes, Jackie Kunarsky, Jim McNicholas, enlarge the evergrowing math department headed by Sharri Kornblum and Stan Mu.

PERFORMING ARTS DEPARTMENT

The Performing Arts department is growing each year. In addition to the usual instrumental, vocal, and drama classes have been added an international dance class, a TOP 40 vocal music class and a Theatre Arts Workshop. The marching band is seen at all football games and the instrumental and vocal classes combine for a Winter Concert. Each fall a play is presented, and in the spring all of our dance drama and music talents are channelled into a Broadway musical.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Replacing Ms. Buono in the Physical Education Department is Ms. Barbara Suto. Ms. Suto, a graduate of Cal State Long Beach has been with the Los Angeles City School District for 11 years. She will be taking over the assignment of Girls' Tennis Coach.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

With today's emphasis on high technology, the Science Department this year incorporated new textbook adoptions in biology, chemistry and physiology.

These adoptions up-date each program and enable both teachers and students to have the latest knowledge of changes and new discoveries in each subject field. The addition of three new teachers, Sharon Stewart,

Larry Furukawa and Louis Landre help keep the department viable with fresh ideas, invigorating energies and modern teaching techniques. Students preparing for the Academic Decathlon and AP exams in science attend weekly workshops conducted by Eugene Wilkerson. The Biology AE program is now available on all tracks as a separate class with its own teacher.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

New teachers were added to the Social Studies Department and some teachers began teaching new subjects. Matthew Rickert came to Belmont from Stevenson Junior High and was added to the B track schedule. Branimir Stosic was also added to the B track schedule. The AP History class was expanded to include all three tracks. Mrs. May Fong is teaching the AP class on A track for the first time. Mr. David Cheung came over from the English as a Second Language Department to teach a full program in Social Studies.

SPECIAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The Special Education Department has added new classes and teachers in order to serve exceptional students year-round. Liz Suenaza is now teaching the "C" track EH class, and the department recently welcomed Jaclyn Kunarsky as the "B" track EH teacher. Donna Hauter and Lalitha Row continue as "A" track teachers. Special Education recently departmentalized in order to offer its students a wider variety of classes, and strengthen its curriculum. Chairperson Russell Ung says the changes have strengthened the department as a whole, but its real inner strength comes from cooperation within the department, and the support it receives from School Psychologist Anne Kaplan and the counseling staff.

ALWAYS IN YOUR HEART

Words alone cannot describe
This feeling that I have inside.
For I once had a heart so true
That now has gone from me to you.

Keep it, as I would have done;
For now you have two and I have none.
If I should die before you do
I'll go to heaven heartless and wait for you.

If you're not there by Judgement Day,
I'll know that you have gone the other way.
And just to prove my heartless love is true
I'll go down there to be with you.

-Patricia Garcia

LOVE

Love ...
You bring a sparkle
In every young girl's eyes.
You possess the magic
Of lifting me up in the air.

Love ...
You leave me
In a world of fantasies and dreams.
You keep my mind
Whirling in blissfulness.
Love ...
You are my life.

-Jad

LOST LOVE

I became a world of confusion
Lost in a sea of endless flesh and blood
And unheard in the sounds of Mechanical, heartless steel.
I was alone.
Alone as a sailboat surrounded by
Total darkness in the midnight sea.

Wandering mindless with the flow
Of the ocean's currents
Not knowing of where I'm headed.
Suddenly out of the dark you appeared
Like the bright red blades of the sun
Cutting through the endless night.
You were warm and inviting and
Oh so beautiful.

You had shown me the path to escape
My prison of love.
Just as I started to need you more
You were disappearing, as fast as you rose
You were disappearing.
Sinking into the vast endless sea
Of infinite darkness.

-Jack Rivas

REMINISCING

I remember how I was that winternight.
I was like the sea; apparently calm, but inside, a storm was building up;
A storm that could not be contained.

It was spring when you came to me.
When you touched me, I fell in love.
When you kissed me, I grew in your love.
When you loved me, I loved you back.

And then everything changed.
It was as if our love had been in a cup and we had drunk it all.
Even unto the dregs.

When you said goodbye, the emptiness
I felt in my being was emptier than any pit.
The coldness I felt in my heart and in my soul, was greater than any physical coldness.

And now wintertime is here once more.
Your memory has come to haunt me,
but I know you are forever gone.
Because your love, like the sea over a salt-flat desert ebbed away.

-Angie Bautista

THE LIFE IN ME

Sway, sway, great bamboo tree
In times of destructive turbulence.
Your strong limbs are my epitome
And your core is my hollowed essence.

A willow that weeps in the endless night
Although verdant is my face;
I seek to see the elusive light
With serenity and flowing grace.

A little four-walled room is me
To cope with hard existence.
Full of warmth and tranquility —
The bases of my subsistence.

A myriad of things make up my soul
From the desert to the sea.
I live to see what the future holds
Because I am life, and life . . . is me.

-Earl Montelibano

Loneliness

Oh, what a lonely seagull am I?
Flying day after day, night after night.
Yet, I can't seem to reach my destination.
Oh, how I wish I could find an intimate mate;
To share my laughter and be complexity with.
Yet, a lonely seagull I tend to be.
Flying into eternity.

-Lily Chan

What AM I?

I am a shattered log,
Battered by the tide.
I float in emptiness,
As if some part of me had died.
I am a shattered log,
Adrift upon the sea,
When I'm finally cast ashore,
I don't know where I'll be.

-Tina Chan

DREAM FOREVER FOR A WHILE

I remember, when I think forever for a while,
When the child-side of me died.
To go back and recapture that which I had;
To reach back in my mind and learn of that forever which I left behind.

I try to do it alone, and desire filled my dreams.
Loneliness filled my heart.
Finally I did, and got out of Berendo Junior High;
Next day found my self in the exotic environment of Belmont High.

-Norma Fernandez

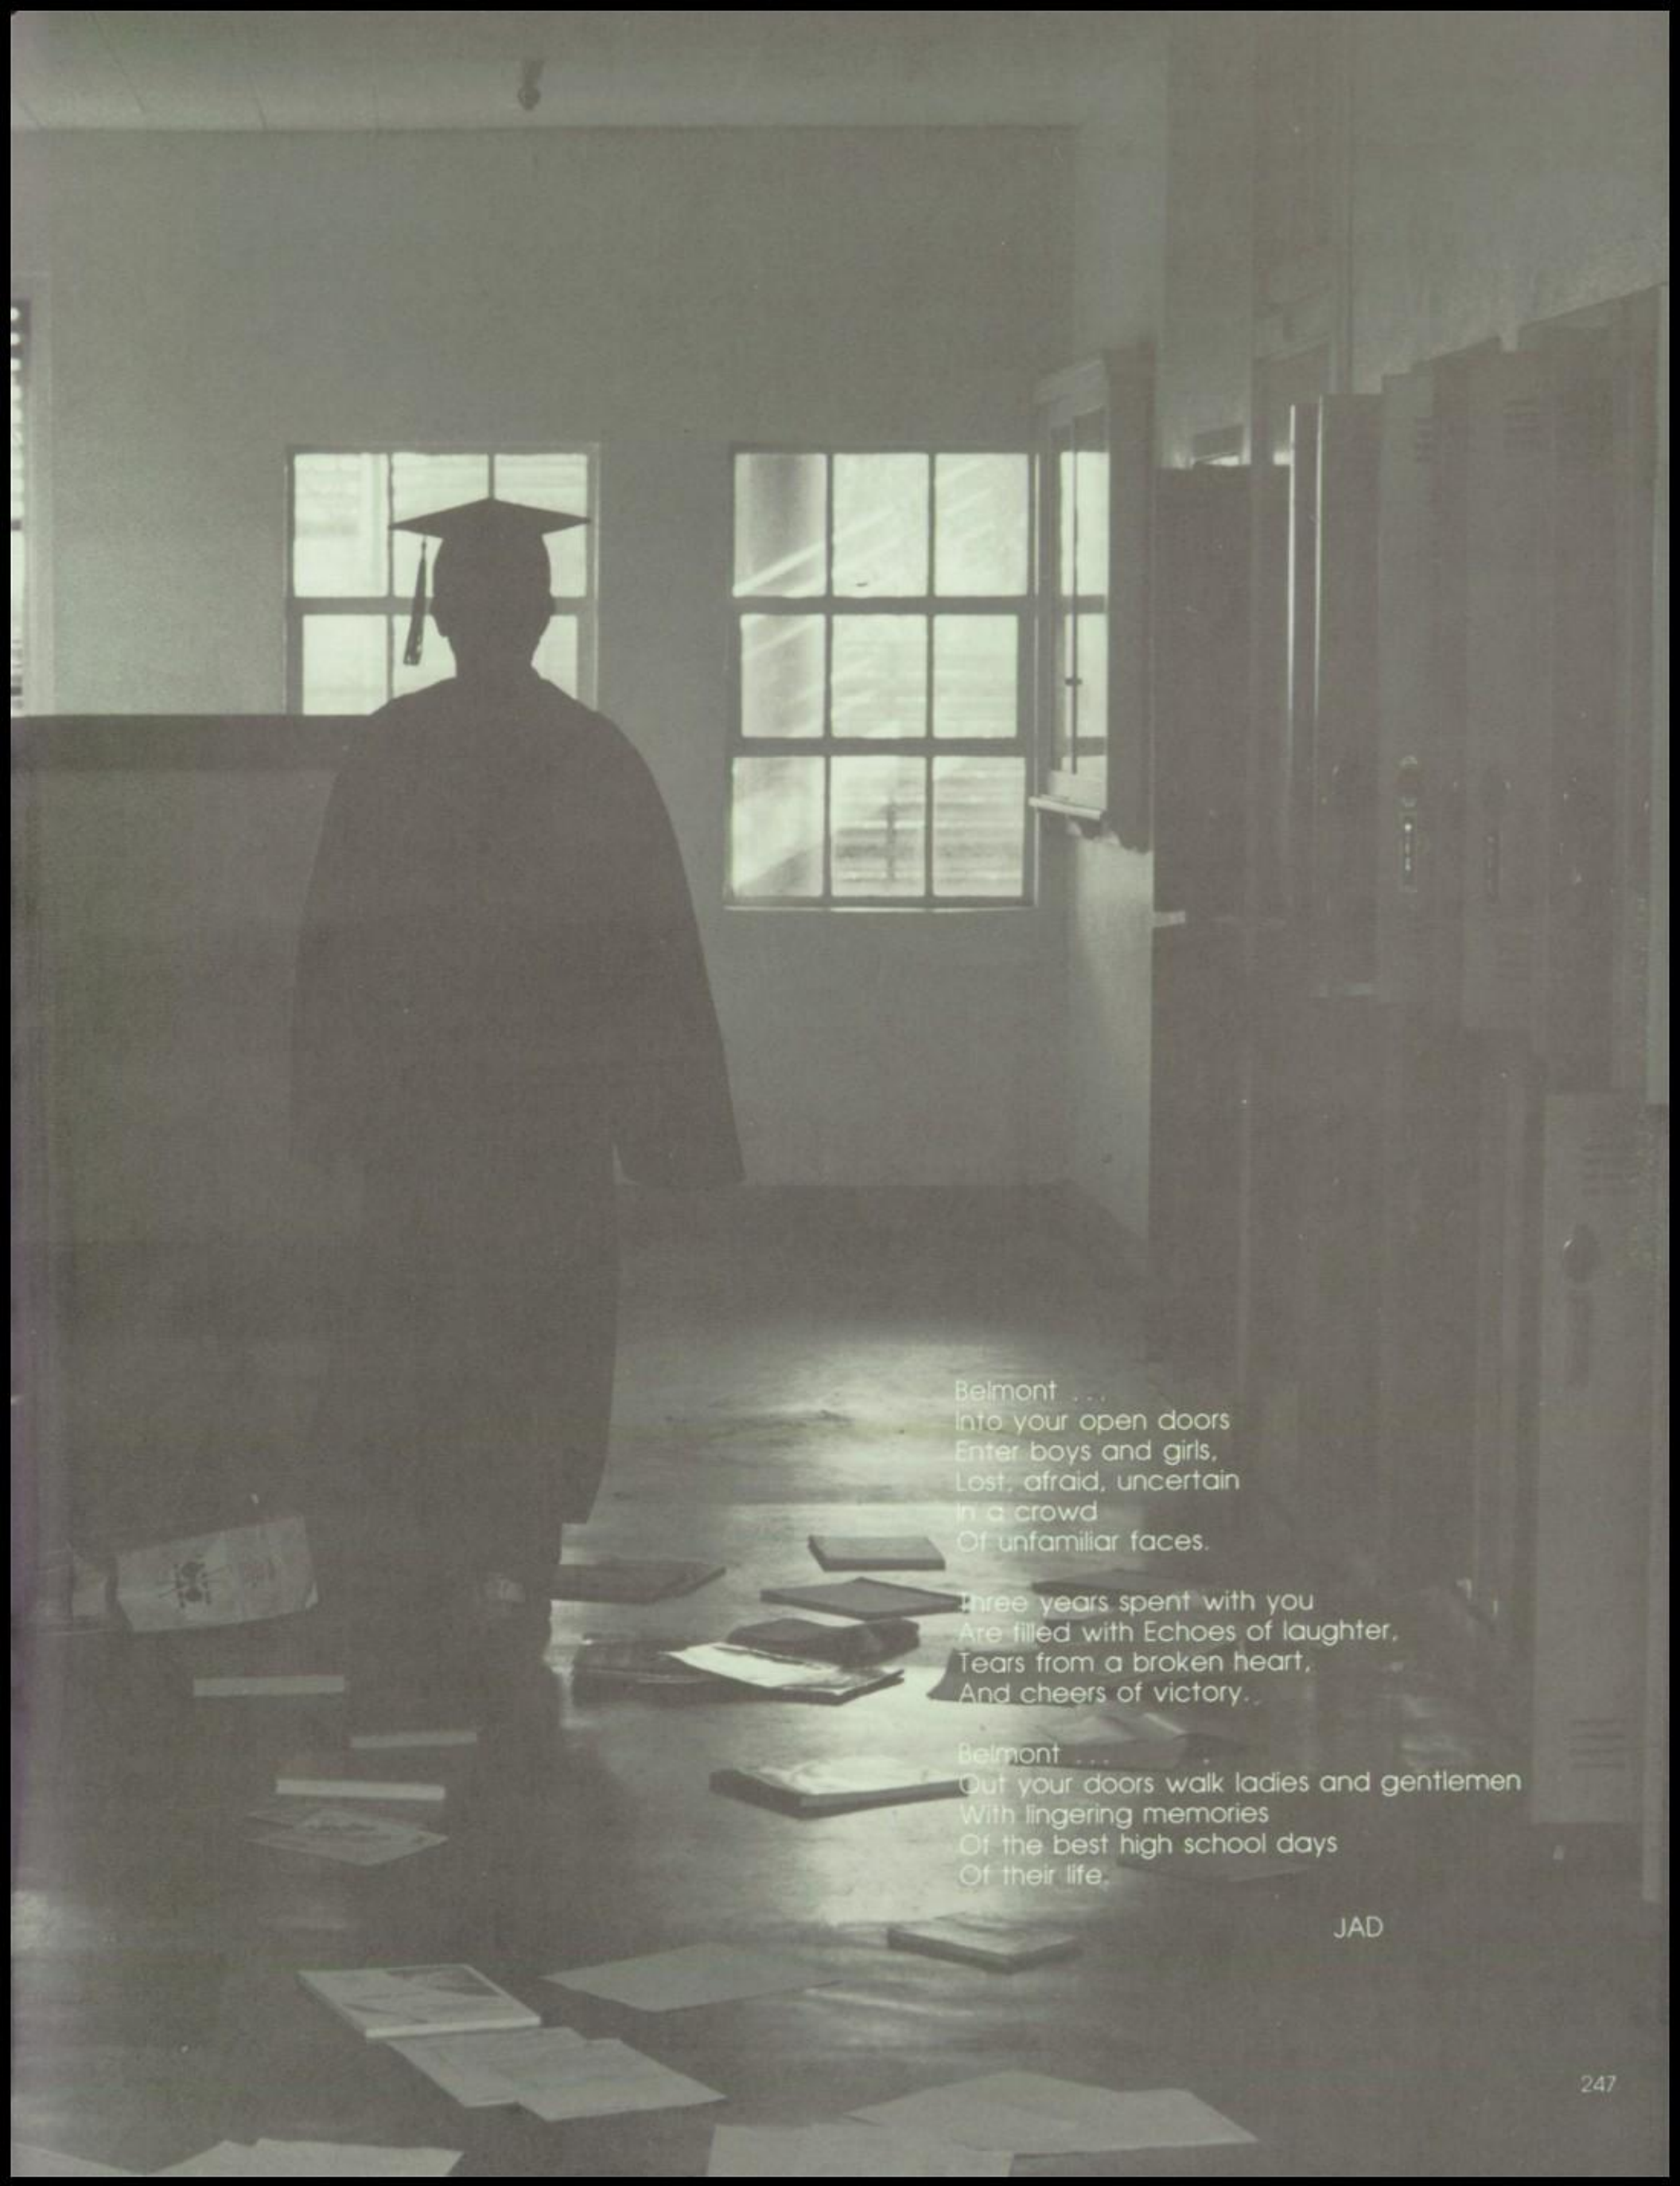
A Time To Remember

I REMEMBER those exciting, anxious years at Belmont, and all those fun (and not-so-fun) days when nothing important really seemed to matter. I remember seeing my old friends and making new ones, and watching us grow closer together. Through sickness and in health, come rain or come shine, I was there. Belmont had somehow become a part of me, and I somehow grew attached to it. I remember when I got lost in school and not knowing where to go, feeling alone when I was never alone. I remember all of my friends, all of my teachers, and all of my classes. They will never be forgotten, for I will never leave them. Yes, it was a time of changes, of growing and learning, and as I reflect I can look back and say, "Yes, I made it!", but in my heart I am both sad and rejoiceful. I don't know how I feel. Yes, it was a time of changes - a time to remember. Those memories shall never leave me, for they will live on within me as I continue to grow. And as it all comes to an end now, I know deep down inside that this is only the new beginning of a new life. Yes, I've been a part of Belmont, and Belmont's been a part of me. This I will never forget.

A graduating Sentinel



Belmont . . .
Into your open doors
Enter boys and girls,
Lost, afraid, uncertain
In a crowd
Of unfamiliar faces.

Three years spent with you
Are filled with Echoes of laughter,
Tears from a broken heart,
And cheers of victory.

Belmont . . .
Out your doors walk ladies and gentlemen
With lingering memories
Of the best high school days
Of their life.
